REPUBLICANS NAME STATE TICKET

Tenner, Reynolds, Houck and Wrights the Nominees

At Harrisburg Wednesday during the briefest and most harmonious convention in the history of the Republican party of Pennsylvania, the following State ticket was unanimously named:

For Governor—John E. Tenor of Washington county.

For Lieutenant-Governor—John M. Reynolds of Bedford county.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs—Harry Houck of Lebanon county.

For State Treasurer—C. Fred Wright of Susquehanna county.

Only one hour and fourteen minutes was consumed in the work of the convention. There were 373 delegates, and as there was only one candidate named for each office the secretary cast the ballot of the convention in each instance.

State Senator W. E. Crow of Fayette county, presided over the meeting.

The following delegates from Bradford county attended the convention: A. C. Blackwell of Towanda, E. A. Waldo of Wyalusing, Hon E. M. Dunham of Sayre, and E. L. Teeter of Troy. Hon. M. E. Lilley of Towanda, was also in attendance at the convention.

MANY PEOPLE MAKE USE OF NEW DRINKING FOUNTAIN

One Hundred and Fifteen Drank of the Waters in Ten Minutes.

That the new drinking fountain at the corner of Main and Court streets erected by the W. C. T. U. fills a long felt want is proven by the fact that Thursday in ten minutes time 115 people partook and were refreshed by the sparkling Eilenberger spring water which bubbles up out of four openings in the fountain.

At two different times, a well known Towandian counted the people drinking at the fountain during a period of five minutes.

The first five minutes he kept count 45 partook of the waters. In the second five minutes, an even 70 sipped the cool liquid, making a total of 115 in just ten minutes.

During the day, it is estimated that hundreds of people were refreshed at this fountain, which is proving to be a blessing already.

Many Old Relics Displayed.

Nearly all the display windows along Main street are filled with relics of the olden days. Nearly everything which was used by the forefathers from the old newspapers and dictionaries down to the spinning wheels are on display in such large numbers that it would be impossible to describe everything in detail. Following are the names of the merchants who have given up their windows for the display of relics: W. F. Humphrey, Finney & Bender, Dye & Bresee Hardware Co., W. F. Dittrich, H. L. Holcomb, Family Theatre, J. W. Swingle, James Bennett, Macafee & Stevens, Gillett's Drug Store, Spalding Hardware Company, M. E. Rosenfield, A. C. Blackwell.

Will Jump From Ulster Bridge.

The management of the big celebration to be held at Ulster on July 4th has secured another fine free attraction. Prof. LaBar will leap from the top of the big State bridge to the water below, empty handed, on the morning of July 4th. This is something new in the bridge jumping as all other bridge jumpers use something to stay their fall. The distance Prof LaBar will leap is something over one hundred feet. This is only one of the big events of the day. Ulster will have the biggest Fourth of July celebration in the history of the town.

Churches Struck By Lightning.

During the severe thunder shower last Thursday night lightning entered St. Francis Catholic church at Milred on the electric wires and damaged the large handsome lamps to the extent of probably over $100. On Monday night a heavy shower passed over Laporte and the Roman Catholic church at that place was struck, damaging the steeple and the interior of the church to the extent of probably between $500 and $1,000. There is an insurance on the property.

Automobile Party.

Mrs. Williard E. Stone, Paul A., Laura A., Virginia A., and Eleanor W. Stone, Lewis B. Pierce of Wyalusing, Hiram Gilbert of Montrose, and George H. W. Stone of Binghamton, autoed from Wyalusing to Towanda on Saturday in the latter's fine new Franklin automobile. Upon arriving in Towanda, Mr. Stone entered and drove his car in the hill climbing contest, giving a good account of himself.

Were on the Wrecked Train.

Mrs. George M. Decker, and daughters, the Misses Florence and Grace Decker, returned Wednesday evening from a visit in New York and Brooklyn. They were passengers on Lehigh passenger train No. 7 which was derailed at Freelandsburg, Pa., Wednesday noon. Mrs. Decker and daughters were in the parlor car next to the Pullman which tipped nearly over, but fortunately escaped injury.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS MEET

Hold Encampment As Guests of Historical Society.

The annual encampment of the Soldiers and Sailors of Bradford county was held in the Court House Friday, the first meeting in the morning and the second in the afternoon, under the auspices of the Historical Society, whose guests the veterans were for the day.

The Encampment was organized yesterday at 10:30 o'clock, with headquarters established in the Grand Jury room. D. S. Boardman of Athens, acting in the capacity of temporary chairman, called the meeting to order. W. H. Nutt of Athens, was nominated for commander of the Encampment and was unanimously elected.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year; Senior vice commander, John A. Allen of Rome; junior vice commander, Dr. T. B. Johnson of Towanda; quarter master, C. T. Hull of Athens; chaplain, Rev. H. G. Blair of North Towanda; officer of the day, Elisha Cole of Towanda; officers of the guard, Aaron F. Eddy of Towanda, and Capt. F. N. Moore of North Orwell; chief of artillery, I. L. Young, Sheshequin; chief of cavalry, E. M. Tuton of Bentley Creek; auditors, J. Andrew Wilt of Towanda; J. H. Chaffee of Hornbrook, and A. J. Fisher of Towanda.

Following the election of officers all the veterans placed their names and addresses on the register provided by the Historical Society and for their information. In connection with the registration, all members received a badge presented to them by the Society, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

At two o'clock Friday afternoon, the members of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Encampment and their friends met in court room No. 1 and listened to exercises consisting of songs addresses, recitations, etc. They were largely attended and great interest was shown by those present. The soldiers related some of their experiences and hardships endured during the dark days of the Civil War. These were interspersed with songs and recitations by the young people, made a good program.

E. FLOYD KIZER WILL ALSO GIVE CUP

Two Fine Prizes For Towanda Hill Climbing Contest.

Interest is increasing in the proposition to hold a hill climbing contest in Towanda each year, and automobilists and others are talking of nothing else.

Last evening, E. Floyd Kizer, one of Towanda's best known and most prominent citizens, authorized The Review to state that he would also give a cup as a trophy if such a contest would be arranged. This makes two cups to be offered by Towanda citizens, Cortez H. Jennings offering the other one.

With these two fine prizes in view, it is now up to the automobile owners of Towanda to get together and organize a club, which shall have for its object the promoting of automobile racing and the advertising of Towanda in the automobile world. There are enough automobilists in Towanda and vicinity to form a good, big association, and they should get together at once. Two fine trophy cups already in sight makes it easy sailing for the Towanda Automobile club when such an organization is formed.

WIRE THROUGH HIS EYEBALL.

Jesse Barber Meets With Painful Accident in Towanda.

To have a wire go clear through the eyeball and not lose the sight is an unusual experience, but that is exactly what Jesse Barber, a young man, passed through in Towanda yesterday.

He was cracking a whip, when a small wire which had been wound around the end of the cracker flew off, striking him in the eye. The wire passed entirely through the eyeball, but fortunately missed the sight. With the wire sticking through the eyeball, Barber went to the office of Dr. C. S. Means where it was removed.

It is very painful injury, but no serious reults are anticipated.

Bass "Planted" in Susquehanna.

The Game and Fish Protective Association of Sayre has received five cans of black bass from Wayne County which were placed in the Susquehanna river near Sayre. The baby fish measured from an inch to three-quarters of an inch in length and estimating that there were ten thousand fish in each can, in all 50,000 were received. This was the third consignment of fish received in Sayre this year, the other consisting of pickerel, yellow bass and all game fish.

THREE DAYS' CELEBRATION ENDED SATURDAY EVENING.

Old Home and Old People's Days Periods of Prime Pleasure---Program Carried Out Without a Hitch.

FISHER WELLES HAD CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH.

Succumbed to High Altitude Effect in Rocky Mountains.

Fisher Welles of Wyalusing, who has been touring the West, had a close call from death in the Rocky mountains the other day. He was overcome by the high altitude effect, and was unconscious for a time. He was attended by Dr. Haag of Williamsport, who was a member of a party of tourists.

The Williamsport Sun of Tuesday of last week, has this to say of Mr. Welles' illness:

"Dr. John P. Haag, of Williamsport, was among the guests who accompanied the party and to his professional skill is owing the life of Fisher Welles, of Wyalusing, another member of the party, who was overcome by the effect of the high altitude while going up Mt. McClellan, a peak in the Rocky mountains, the summit of which is 14,007 feet above sea level and up which a railroad has been built for the purpose of carrying excursionists. The party were served luncheon at a little hotel at 11,000 feet up the mountain. While at the table Mr. Welles found himself growing ill and attempted to walk to the door, but fell unconscious to the floor, striking his head against a desk as he went down. Dr. Haag was called and administered digitalis and strychnia. Mr. Wells apparently recovered readily, but during the interval that the train consumed making the additional distance to the top and return—and during which Mr. Wells remained at the hotel—he suffered a second attack, and then when the effort necessary to reach the cars was undergone he again relapsed into unconsciousness, and for a time was in a very serious condition. He was covered with overcoats, as it was wintry cold at the time, a severe snow storm prevailing, and in half an hour the train had descended into an altitude which was conducive to his improvement, and he recovered. Several other members of the party were so much affected by the high altitude that it was necessary for Dr. Haag to administer to them before they could proceed."

POWELL WILL HAVE REGULAR HIGH SCHOOL.

The school directors of Monroe township at their annual meeting decided to establish a high school at Powell. At the regular meeting of the board held Saturday evening, G. A course of study will be prepared at once and submitted to the State Department for their approval.

A determined effort will be made to promote the best interest of all students who may desire to attend. The term will begin on Monday, August 29.

John Ackley's Barn Burned.

During the electrical storm on Monday afternoon, the barn on John Ackley's farm just beyond the railroad crossing on Towanda flats was struck by lightning and burned. A portion of the farming implements in the barn at the time were saved from the flames. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Distinguished Gentleman Here.

Judge James R. Macfarlane of Pittsburg, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Edwin S. Balch. He is one of Towanda's most distinguished sons, like many others could not resist the call of the old home days.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by E. P. Kester, Pharmacist.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER; INTERESTING EVENTS

Portrait of Judge Obadiah Gore Unveiled.

MANY FORMER RESIDENTS HERE.

Soldiers and Sailors Encampment Brought Many War Veterans to the City of Promise—Programs Carried Out in Presbyterian Church, Court House and the Opera House.

The Old Home and Old People's celebration came to a close Saturday evening, the three day's festivities ending as the sun went down.

They were three days filled with pleasure and unalloyed joy for home comers and vistors, because there was something of interest going on all the while. The attendance on Thursday, the opening day was good, larger than on the first day last year; Friday the second old home day brought an unusually large crowd, one of the largest ever in Towanda, and Saturday which was old people's and automobile day brought another unusually large crowd.

In the large crowd that thronged the streets, many familiar faces were to be seen; the smiling countenances of former residents of Towanda and Bradford county who had answered the call of the old home and were come to mingle with old friends, and incidentally to make new ones.

To a Towandian, or a Bradford countian, there is no place just like this place, nestling in the hills, in the heart of God's country, as it were. And there is no place so dear to the wanderer as a sight of the old familiar haunts; the cool springs, babbling brooks, majestic elm, the old folks at home, not to mention the old garden gate where in the Springtime of life they were wont to swing to and fro. Were you ever far from home and friends among strangers? And did you open your eyes in the middle of the night and long for the old home, the old scenes, the old friends? If so, then you can appreciate the feelings; appreciate the sentiment which is the real life of the old home coming. You can fully realize what it means to these former residents to get back into the dear old county, and to dear old Towanda.

The programs arranged for the three days were carried out completely and without a hitch. Beautiful weather prevailed during the celebration, leaving nothing to be desired. The three days will go down in history prominently as periods of pleasure, interest and entertainment. The attendance for the three days was larger in the aggregate than last year, according to conservative estimates.

Start of the Celebration.

The celebration proper started Thursday morning at 10:30, when an informal reception for home comers was held in the rooms of the Historical Society. This proved to be a very pleasant affair. Many former residents of town and county were present, and the welcome they received was warm, indeed.

Afternoon Exercises.

The meeting held in the Historical Society's rooms yesterday afternoon welcoming the old home comers was largely attended. Several good addresses were given and a fine musical program was carried out.

Prof Herbert S. Putnam, president of the Bradford County Historical Society delivered the address of welcome. He paid fitting tribute to the sons and daughters of old Bradford, who have gone out into the world to seek their fortunes or who for causes known only to themselves have left their native soil, some never to return. On behalf of the people of Towanda and Bradford county, he welcomed the home comers and hoped that the old home days would always be an annual event.

In response to Mr. Putnam's address, C. F. Heverly, librarian of the Historical Society made a few remarks and introduced the venerable Seth T. Vargason of Elmira. Mr. Vargason was a former Bradford county resident, but for the last few years has resided in Elmira. He is a very good speaker considering his age. In the course of his remarks he recited an old poem dealing with the times of the War of the Rebellion and when he had finished the audience applauded the venerable gentleman in a hearty manner.

Dr. Charles W. Stewart of Salt Lake City, another former Bradford county boy, was next introduced and spoke very highly of the Bradford county boys who have made good in the West. He spoke of the rapidity with which the cities in the West are wont to grow. He dwelt at length on the value of the schooling which the Bradford county boys have received in the past and which they are receiving today, saying that the boys who have attended the schools in Bradford and have gone out into the the world are far more capable of holding responsible and lucrative positions, both in the professional and the business world.

F. S. Stewart of Anoka, Minn., was then called upon to make a few remarks, responding with readiness. He mentioned a large number of people who at some time or other have called Bradford county home, but who are now located in different parts of Minnesota. All have made good in their various walks of life and reflect great credit on the people of this county. His father was a member of the 141st regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and said that he had in his home two stars which were shot out of the flag carried by the ensign of that famous regiment. He said that should the Bradford County Historical Society ever get possession of that flag he would present one of the stars to the society.

Following the address of Mr. Stewa a quartette composed of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ruggles, Mrs. Hill and Miss Lauderbach, sang a beautiful song in a very pleasing manner, winning the applause of all those who were present.

One of the most important events of the day was the unveiling of the portrait of Judge Obadiah Gore. Judge Gore was a distinguished soldier of the Revolution and was among the first settlers at Wyoming, and prominent in the Yankee and Pennamite difficulties; in 1874 he removed to Bradford county, settling in Sheshequin; in 1871-82 he was a member from Westmoreland to the Connecticut Assembly, and was a member of the Pennsylvania legislature in 1788, '89 and '90; was commisioned in 1787 one of the Judges of Luzerne county, serving four years. He was a worthful and enterprising pioneer. He died in Sheshequin on March 22, 1821.

A solo, "My Dream of the U. S. A.," was rendered by Miss Sarah F. Braund in a beautiful and pleasing manner.

The address of Major W. H. H. Gore, a great grandson of Judge Gore was very interesting. Mr. Gore is an able and forceful speaker and his address was listened to attentively by the large audience. He dwelt at length upon the history of the Gore family and in course of his talk brought out many valuable and interesting points.

A recitation by Miss May Moore was followed by the singing of "America" by all present. The meeting was then adjourned after which all departed from the building having enjoyed a most pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Firemen's Parade.

The big outdoor feature of the afternoon was the annual parade and inspection of the Towanda Volunteer Fire Department which took place at the close of the exercises in the Historical Society rooms.

The companies formed on Park stret and to the splendid music of the Laquin Cornet Band, they marched down Main to Franklin street, back up Main to York avenue to Barstow avenue, thence to North Main street, and down to Washington street, and countermarch to the court house. The firemen stopped at the Cox greenhouse where they were treated to lemonade by Mrs. Cox. The firemen greatly appreciated this courtesy.

The department always makes a good appearance, but it is doubtful if the "finest of the fine" ever looked better than Thursday afternoon.

The fire police under Captain Warren Smith made a fine appearance, in fact it was the first time that all the officers were ever in a line of march at one time. Chief Engineer Fairchild and his assistants, Dudley Turner and John Williams, also made a good appearance.

The Franklin Steam Fire Engine company, No. 1, with 24 men in the drill squad under the leadership of Drillmaster Frank Welch never looked better. The members of the squad wore white shoes which dressed nicely with the blue uniforms with red trimmings.

The Naiad Company No. 2, Linta Company No. 3, Mantua Company No. 4, each had 24 men in the squad, while Hawes Hose No. 5 had 18 men in line. Clayton Maryott was in charge of the Naiads, as drillmaster; Lewis H. Frisbie handled the Lin-tas, James Welsh the Mantuas, and William Lewis the Hawes company.

All along the line of march the companies made fancy evolutions and were generously applauded. Each

MASKED BURGLAR RANSACKS HOUSE.

Daring Robbery in East Towanda Early Saturday Morning

A masked burglar entered and ransacked the home of William Crawford at East Towanda about 1:30 Saturday morning, securing between $5 and $6 and a good razor. He was seen by Miss Louise Crawford, who was so terrified that she did not dare make a sound for fear of being killed.

The Crawford family live on the main road to Wysox. Mr. Crawford is a carpenter and is employed in Towanda most of the time. Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, Miss Louise and the youngest of the children retired, the front door was left unlocked for another member of the family who was in Towanda.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Louise Crawford was awakened by noises in her room, and upon opening her eyes was horrified to see a man near the door. Her father's coat hung just inside the door, and as the intruder rifled this, Miss Crawford got a good look at him. The bright moonlight revealed him clearly and the black mask over his eyes and the upper part of his face could be plainly seen. As the burglar tiptoed about Miss Crawford got a good look at him, and gives a minute description of him, even to his shoes.

The burglar rifled the bureau draws, and ransacked everything without disturbing Mr. and Mrs. Crawford. Miss Crawford could hear him tiptoe out of the house by the front door, his shoes squeaking slightly as he went.

When the sounds of his footsteps had died away, Miss Crawford, called her parents, and they came to her. At first they thought she had been the victim of a nightmare, but an investigation proved that the house had been ransacked.

The purse containing the money was the only thing that was found to be missing at first, but yesterday when Mr. Crawford prepared for his Sunday shave, he discovered that his razor had gone with the purse and money.

Miss Crawford describes the burglar so closely, that the family and the police in that neighborhood have a grave suspicion as to the identity of the guilty party.

Money Subscribed for Convention.

Hoyt Hager, deputy postmaster at Athens and prominent in fire department circles of that borough, was in Towanda yesterday, and reports that nearly all the money necessary for the holding of the annual convention of the Seven County Volunteer Firemen's Association in Athens in August has been subscribed, and that the convention is a sure go. The Athens business men and especially the hotel keepers have donated generously, thus insuring the success of the convention.

Mrs. E. S. Andrews of Powell, entertained in honor of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Eick of Tioga on Tuesday of last week, Mrs. S. Bergen Parks and Miss Genevieve Warriner of Towanda, Mrs. C. G. Summers of Monroeton and Mrs. Henry Hovey of DuDushore.

R. E. KIZER'S CAR MADE BEST TIME

Three Classes of Races Run Off on Bridge Street.

Towanda, as in everything else worth while, has now taken the lead in Northern Pennsylvania and Southern New York as an automobile center, and also becomes one of the most important places in the motor car racing sphere. This history making epoch is dated Saturday, June 25, 1910, when the first automobile race meet ever held between Wilkes-Barre and Buffalo took place. A large crowd witnessed the contests.

Three events, Class A, B, and C were run off, with a total of eleven cars competing. Autos valued at over $50,000 were run up the Bridge street hill for an even mile at an average speed for all classes of cars at 40 miles an hour, which is "going some" when it is taken into consideration that they were all stock cars, and that the course was not prepared, or built for racing. Robert E. Kizer's Mattheson car made the best time, negotiating the mile hill in one minute and thirty-three seconds.

In the Class B Fisher Welles with his Marion 30 hp was first in 1:48. Leslie Griggs of Athens, with his Chalmers-Detroit 40 hp. was second in this event, being only half a second behind the Marion. Kaufman's E. M. F. with Eugene Means driving was third. Griggs met with an accident which almost put him out of the race. One of the fenders came loose as he sped up the hill, and near the finish it swung into the wheel, tearing the tire off and causing him to slacken up.

In class A there were but two cars, Griggs with his 20 Hudson and Sterling Pratt with a 20 Maxwell. Griggs won this event in 2:17. Pratt made a good race, considering the fact that he went in without his car being tuned up.

The Official Time.

Following is the official time for all the cars taking part in the races:

Class C.

W. W. Jennings, 60 hp. Chadwick, Cunningham, driver, 1.33 3-4. G. R. Hill, 60 hp. Chadwick, no official time. R. E. Kizer 50 hp. Mattheson, Reyolds driver, 1.33. G. W. H. Stone, 42 hp. Franklin, 2.10.

Class B.

D. E. Kaufman 30 hp. E. M. F., E. D. Means driver, 1.52. Fisher Welles 30 hp. Marion, Fisher Welles, Jr., driver, 1.48. Fisher Welles, 30 hp. Maxwell, Dodge driver, 2.19 3-4. C. P. Welles, 22 hp. Maxwell, G. W. Manville driver, 2.25 3-4. Leslie Griggs, 40 Chalmers-Detroit, 1.48 1-2.

Class A.

Leslie Griggs, 20 hp. Hudson, 2.17-3-4. Sterling Pratt, 20 hp. Maxwell, 3.10.

The Course.

The Bridge street course as used for the races has an average of 7 per cent grade. In some places there is a 20 per cent grade, and in one place there is a very dangerous curve, all of which indicates that the course is not an easy one for a motor car to ascend. That the mentioned curve is a dangerous one is proven by the fact that the first two cars up, W. W. Jen-

The Sunday school convention held Tuesday at the M. E. church was not so very well attended on account of a lack of advertising. It's quite easy to set a date but other things should be seen to. There was no committee on entertainment or music, although entertainment was abundantly furnished. No one was responsible for music, although we have musical talent galore in both churches that would have provided excellent music. The Sunday school orchestra came on thirty minutes notice and helped out in the evening. There were no programs sent and in fact it was too bad to have a state speaker come and give such excellent work as Miss Robinson did to only a handfull of people. There semed to be a lack of understanding and the pastor was overworked in trying to bring order out of chaos. We hope it will never occur again and no doubt a lesson has been learned which will be of value in the future or it would be needless to speak of it.

The Children's Day exercises went off fine at the M. E. church Sunday evening. Every available inch of room was filled by people from far and near. The music was rendered mostly by the children and the Sunday nschool orchestra. Collectio $8.55.

One week more and the Fourth will be history. We hope the borough will prohibit fire crackers and gun powder or we may have a column of accidents to write up.

BI-WEEKLY CLUB AT DUSHORE.

Had a Delightful Time at Home of Cashier M. D. Swarts.

(Communicated.)

One one of "June's rare days" the members of the Bi-Weekly club went out to Dushore to the home of M. D. Swartz and his daughter, Miss Josephine, to visit their transplanted member Miss Helen Carter. The pleasant ride in the early morning air, through the green hills and valleys along the way, soon brought them to the station where their hostesses were waiting to welcome and pilot them to the home on the hillside among the tall maple trees that showed by their leafy greenness that no infesting pest has marred their beauty or overshadowing. A quiet place, above the railroad and busy traffic of the town. Here seated on the porch with a right genial hostess and responsive guests assisted by an attractive pile of portfolios containing the clippings accumulated along the years from current events, history, biography, literature and and pictures illustrating them, the morning hours passed only interrupted midway by an enlivening cup of tea and a sandwich. At noon came the host and dinner, the latter prepared and served by the young hostess with the help of an efficient friend. If "the proof of the pudding was in the eating" then was that a royal repast to which the eleven guests gave ample justice. The afternoon was spent in roaming about. First visiting the uphill garden, passing a cage with three large yellow feline pets who were so confined because they loved the neighbors chicks too well. They looked fat and prosperous and responded to the attention given them. The potato vines looked thifty, green and free from the voracious bug. The hill top view across the valley in which lies the principal street of Dushore showed snug homes among the trees, the church with its cemetery about it quietly dominating the hill above the town, giving a picturesque sight, they all enjoyed. They walked along some of the streets, passing pretty homes with well kept lawns by churches, down into Main street, visiting Mr. Swarts and his genial clerk at the bank, some resting there while others went on to the spring of fine water beside which a Frenchman in the long ago camped for a time and from whom comes the name Dushore. The ladies left behind did not see the spring but were refreshed by some of the water gallantly brought to them. Returning a winding way upward they were back to the porch to rest and receive a second cheering meal before taking the homeward journey. One of the longest days of the year, seemed all too short for the entertainment received from the three friends whose smiling faces and good wishes, was the disappearing sight as they steamed away from Dushore registering in memory a beautiful day spent in delightful companionship and good cheer.

More Work For Sayre Shops.

Orders have been issued by the Lehigh officials that in the future all of the passenger engines on the Lehigh division are to be sent to the System shops at Sayre for repairs. Heretofore they have been doing this work at Easton and now thinking that would be as cheap to do it here, have decided to do so, as better facilities are affored at the local plant. This, with the fact that the railroad's new year will start on July 1st makes it probable that the shop employes here will be put on better time and perhaps full time.

SOCIAL

A Dual Function.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lafferty of Camptown celebrated the 14th anniversary of their marriage on Saturday, June 18th, by entertaining on that day the following guests: Mrs. G. L. Best of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. J. H. Howard and daughter, Harriet and Miss Ada Homet of Homets Ferry; Mrs. J. B. Donovan of Laceyville; Mrs. B. F. Hahoney and Mrs. Will Richard of Wilkes-Barre; and Mrs. Guy Wells of Spring Hill. The cosy home was lavishly trimmed with ferns, laurels, roses and carnations, thus giving the inviting rooms an added brightness with a cheerfulness in striking contrast with the weather conditions at the outside. When dinner was announced, Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty—to the utter surprise of the guests—entered the dining room in the same wedding garments, worn by them 14 years before, keeping marked time with the wedding march played by Miss Howard, this pleasing and impromptu innovation, causing no little merriment and affording a fitting prelude to the appetizing dinner awaiting all. An agreeable hour was spent at the tables, following which, came a delightfully social evening, the chattings interspersed with recitations and piano solos, given by Miss Howard. Following the above which in reality was one of a series of house parties, but on this occasion happily united with a wedding anniversary, the ladies were all conveyed to "Welbec," the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wells, Spring Hill, where a choice tea awaited the guests, the ride having given them appetites to relish fully the choice dainties spread before them. With the games, the music—the latter furnished by Miss Winifred Stanton, an accomplished player—and the social features, a most enjoyable evening was passed, the hour of retirement coming altogether too soon, as the guests remained over night.

On Sunday morning, the husbands joined their wives—Messrs. Mahoney and Richard having come up from Wilkes-Barre—the latter accompanied by his daughter, Wilhelmina—the day being principally spent at "Welbec," the interesting old homestead, the model barns and the stock, all being matters of interest, some of the party visiting Spring Hill to attend the Children's Day exercises. But at the dinner all had re-convened to partake of a full course menu, the family board spread with a maze of toothsome substantials and delicacies, a ful hour being occupied with the meal and the accompanying conversation.

On the whole, it proved to be two very enjoyable days, the function at both the Lafferty and the Wells homes being social events, the recollection of the pleasures of which, will not be soon forgotten by any of the participants.—Laceyville Messenger.

Delightful Tea.

One of the interesting features of old home week was a most delightful tea given Friday evening by Mrs. E. L. Smith at her home on State street. The guests were the members of the Cooking Club which was organized about 1885, and consisted of thirteen original members. At the tea covers were laid for the eight members who were so fortunate as to be in town at this time. Telegrams were received by Mrs. Smith from old members from all parts of the country, and each guest at the tea wrote letters to all absent ones. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion, laurel and pink roses being used in great quantities. The table was one of the most unique ever seen in Towanda.

In the center was a large bank of immense pink roses and foliage, with a spray of roses suspended to the chandelier. At either side of the exquisite centerpiece were round mirrors surrounded by roses. Little electric bulbs of delicate green and pink in the shape of roses were concealed in the center of each large rose. The attractive lights were also interspersed among the graceful arrangement of the flowers, and added greatly to the beautifully appointed table. Silver candlesticks with pink shades were placed at the four corners of the table. The whole effect was exceedingly brilliant. The place cards were artistically decorated with baskets of roses, and bore the "nicknames" of schoolgirl days. The good old times were taken up where they had been left off at the end of school days, and the guests enjoyed an evening which they will remember as long as they live.

The guests were Mrs. Joseph Parrott, Mrs. Mary Hoffman, Mrs. Clarence M. McCraney, Mrs. John Brown of Pittsburg, the Misses Ida Layton, Grace Rogers of Towanda, and Anna Cash of Athens. Mrs. Smith was assisted by Miss Eleanor Smith and Miss Louise McCraney.

TOWANDA, PA., JUNE 30, 1910.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Election Nov. 8, 1910.

FOR GOVERNOR.
JOHN K. TENER
of Washington County.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR
JOHN M. REYNOLDS of Bedford County.

FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS
HENRY HOUCK
of Lebanon County.

FOR STATE TREASURER
C. FRED WRIGHT
of Susquehanna County.

FOR CONGRESS.
CHARLES C. PRATT,
of New Milford, Susquehanna County.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.
WILLIAM J. McCABE,
of Towanda.
CHARLES E. MILLS,
of Athens.

THE TICKET.

The ticket named by the Republican convention at Harrisburg last week is one that will commend itself to the Republican voters of the state, and will receive, we doubt not, the undivided support of the party. Congressman John K. Tener of Washington county, the nominee for governor, is a man comparatively unknown in this part of the state, but he has a most honorable record. He is at present a member of the United States congress and represents the Washington-Beaver-Lawrence district. He is a life long Republican and president of a bank at Charleroi in Washington county. In congress and in his business career Mr. Tener has shown himself to be a man of excellent ability, and personally he is above reproach. His private life is clean, and he enjoys a degree of personal popularity that attests the high esteem of those who know him best. He is in every way qualified to make a good governor, and we do not doubt he will receive the full party vote.

Congressman John M. Reynolds of Bedford county, the candidate for lieutenant governor, is a man of decided capacity and long experience in public affairs. He was formerly a Democrat, which did not hurt him any. Since his conversion to Republicanism Mr. Reynolds has been prominent as a party leader. He has represented the Bedford, Blair and Cambria district in congress, defeating Democratic and fusion candidates by big majorities.

For state treasurer the nominee is the incumbent, Hon. C. Frederick Wright of Susquehanna. Our readers know what we think of Mr. Wright. He is eminently qualified for the important position he now holds and his nomination adds strength to the ticket. In this congressional district, which for several terms he represented in congress, he has many friends in both parties and will receive more than the full party vote.

The convention did a fitting thing when it renominated the Hon. Henry Houck of Lebanon county for secretary of internal affairs. Mr. Houck has served the state well. He is quite well known in Bradford county, where he has attended many teachers institutes as an instructor, and is deservedly popular with our people.

The ticket throughout is a good one, and we feel sure it will receive the hearty support of the Republicans of the county and state.

THE PLATFORM.

No voter who has supported the Republican party in the state can find fault with the platform issued by the Republican state convention at its meeting at Harrisburg last week. It accords full recognition of the large part which President Taft has had in recent national legislation, and gives to his administration of the country's affairs a warm endorsement. This was deserved, and was, of course, expected. When the votes were counted in 1908 it was found that Pennsylvania had given Mr. Taft his largest majority. This state has not wavered in its support of his plans and purposes, and the president has no firmer friends than the Republican voters of the Keystone commonwealth. It was entirely right that the administration of Governor Stuart should receive the emphatic endorsement given it, and there would have been loud complaint from the people had this not been done. Governor Stuart merited it. The new tariff bill is warmly commended, and at the close of the paragraph dealing with this are the words —"We agree with President Taft that it is the best tariff bill the Republican party ever passed." The platform pledges the party to a vigorous and prompt prosecution to final judgment of the civil proceedings already instituted by the attorney general of the state now pending in the courts to compel restitution of all moneys alleged to have been illegally paid out of the state treasury in connection with the completion of the new state capitol building, to the end that every guilty person may be compelled to return to the state all moneys fraudulently obtained. A good word is spoken for charitable institutions and attention is called to the splendid work done by the state department of health. The platform says what we believe is the right thing about roads and highways, as follows:

"We believe the Commonwealth should continue and increase its appropriations for the improvement of public roads throughout the State and that a progressive policy should be inaugurated looking toward the construction and maintenance of a permanent system of main highways connecting all of the counties with the great centers of activity and trade. We urge liberal encouragement to the townships in improving the dirt roads in the country, used daily by so great a proportion of the people; and pledge ourselves to endeavor to find ways and means to rid the State of the toll roads now so great a tax and burden upon the traveling public.

Attention is called to the excellent condition of the state finances; senators and representatives in congress are urged to favor a liberal treatment of the old soldier in the way of pensions; arbitration for all labor disputes is commended, and an appropriation of public money for the building of a canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Ohio river is favored. The platform is an excellent one.

CONGRESS' RECORD.

The first regular session of the 61st congress ended on Saturday evening last, and the country is now passing judgment on its work. The president of the United States is himself a pretty good judge of legislation, and ought to be well informed as to the work of the session which has just passed into history. In a signed statement he is quoted as having said on Thursday last:

"I think the party in power has enacted legislation which will inure greatly to its benefit. It has kept its contract. The Congress which is now closing its first regular session has done what it promised the people to do, and the Republican party has a good record to take to the people in the coming elections."

The above is a fair statement, and seems to be the general opinion. There were some misgivings as to this last session and they prevailed up to a few weeks ago. At the beginning of the session the president sent in his message asking for certain legislation which had been promised by the party in power, and he was painstaking to the extent that he accompanied his recommendations by carefully drawn measures which explicitly provided what was needed. But congress was slow in taking up the work. The appropriation bills were pushed with unusual celerity. It looked as though there was a design to advance the necessary work of the session so as to permit of an early adjournment and the sacrifice of all measures that congress was indifferent to. However, if there was any such plan it fell through. The president was insistent and stuck with admirable fidelity to his task of making a Republican congress do what the Republican party had promised in its platform it would do if returned to power. And all honor and credit, we say, to President Taft for his faithfulness and persistence. We believe it is the verdict of the country that the excellent results of the first regular session of the Sixty-first congress are due in a large measure to his personal work—his perserverance, his tact, his ability, and his never-abandoned determination to keep faith with the people.

In speaking of the importance of the session from a legislative standpoint the New York Tribune says:

"The legislation of the session will rank in scope and importance with that of any session within the last two or three decades. The session of 1889-'90—the one at which the McKinley tariff act, the Sherman anti-trust act, the dependent pension act and the Sherman silver purchase act were passed—probably produced more legislation of far-reaching importance. The session of 1905-'06, which saw the passage of the Hepburn railroad rate law, the pure food law, the meat inspection law, the new naturalization law and the consular re-organization law, was also rich in results. But alongside of the Sixty-first Congress can put the amended railroad measure and the measures establishing a system of postal savings banks, providing for a public accounting of contributions and expenditures in national campaigns, extending the activities of the tariff board authorizing withdrawals of public lands from settlement for conservation purposes and granting Statehood to Arizona and New Mexico. In all of those measures pledges of the last Republican national platform have been redeemed, and the party can go to the country in the fall elections with a record of promises promptly and specifically fulfilled almost without a parallel in our political history."

OUR GLORIOUS UNION.

With the admission of New Mexico and Arizona into the galaxy of our Union, the book is closed, as far as contiguous territory is concerned. Alaska, Porto Rico and the Philippines are in the nature of Colonial possessions. Whether any of this territory will eventually be admitted as states is a problem for the future. Our flag will now have 48 stars. New Mexico was organized as a territory on September 9, 1850; Arizona, February 24, 1863; teh former has a population of 450,000, the latter, 200,000; New Mexico has an area of 122,580 square miles, Arizona, 113,020; the former produced $514,000 in gold and silver in 1908 and the latter, $4,000,000. New Mexico was organized as a territory on the day Calnfornia gained statehood. Since that date fifteen states have been admitted, the last, previous to New Mexico and Arizona being Oklahoma, November 16, 1907. It had 1,490,000 population on January 1, 1910 a jump from less than 150,000 ten years previously.

Under the leadership of Chairman Walton of the Republican state committee the campaign on the Republican side will not be allowed to sleep. The late convention could not have made a better selection for state chairman.

The old home and old people's days closing Saturday go down in history as the biggest and most successful ever held in the county seat. All credit is due to the committee who worked early and late for the success of the celebration.

THE STAR AND THE N. A.

The congressional campaign is opening and the Bradford Star and the Philadelphia North American have begun to yawp. The latter is now printing "special dispatches to The North American" under a Towanda date line, which are written in Philadelphia. They are funny. Both the Star and the North American have told their readers that hundreds of Republicans in Bradford county deserted Mr. Pratt at the primaries, and that many of them voted for Kipp, and that in November evehybody is going to vote for Kipp and that it is all over but the shouting. This is rich, indeed.

If the deluded individuals who are writing this sort of stuff believe it, it is quite in order for us to tell them some things which they don't appear to know. Or if they know better and are giving out this misinformation in order to deceive, it is in order for us to uncover them.

Now as to the alleged falling-off in Mr. Pratt's vote at the primaries, caused by the defection of hundreds of Republicans who refused to vote for him." He received 2601 votes—the largest vote cast for any candidate for any office, except one delegate to the state convention, who received 2686. Pratt's vote was larger than that cast for any legislative candidate. McCabe was high man for the legislature, and received 2567.

Now as to Mr. Kipp's vote. What was his strength at the primaries? If he is so strong among Republicans that "he might have defeated Pratt for the Republican nomination if he had permitted his name to have gone on the Republican ballot," as the Star said, we would infer, naturally, that he ought to have shown corresponding strength in his own party. Did he? He received just 400 Democratic votes—less than half the number he received at the primary election two years ago. Let the twinkling Star chew on that. Also the scribe who writes the Towanda letters for the North American, and writes them in Philadelphia. Perhaps they will spin more pretty yarns based on the Bradford county primary elections. But if they are bright they will not refer to the matter again.

Both of these newspapers seem to derive comfort from the fact that some Republicans wrote Mr. Kipp's name on the Republican ballot. We suggest to the Star man that he read his exchanges and not rush into print so easily. The Susquehanna county papers inform us that at the primaries over there many Democrats wrote Mr. Pratt's name on the Democratic ballot. If we wanted to make an ass of ourself we could do it by suggesting that Mr. Pratt could have defeated Mr. Kipp for the Democratic nomination "if he had permitted his name to have gone on the Democratic ballot."

HOW TO AVOID LIGHTNING.

This is a good time to study some of the causes of lightning and also how to aviod the dangers of having the currents come in contact with the human body.

Isolated houses are more commonly the objects of the lightning stroke; and it is observed that particular localities are subjects to be repeatedly struck at different periods; other spots are singularly free from such visitations. Chimneys from which hot and rarefied air is ascending into the atmosphere and barns stored with new hay, the vapors from which also produce warm ascending currents, are especially liable to be struck. It is prudent for persons in a building to aviod being near a chimney or a wall, or in proximity to any which the lightning may find the readiest path. The greatest safety would be found, as stated by Franklin, in lying in a hammock suspended by silken cords in the middle of a large apartment. Insultation by placing one's self upon a feather bed, or any poor conductor, is also a protection, not however complete unless the head is covered by some non-conducting substance.

The efficacy of lightning rods is sometimes doubted and an idea is entertained that the rod often proves dangerous by attracting the stroke. It is difficult to say how many buildings have been saved by rods, as it is impossible to say what might or might not have taken place in their absence. It appears, however, that in Germany and also in many states in America, statistics have lately been furnished by insurance companies which support the opinion that rods offer a great degree of protection. In fact, insurance rates are lessened in some states where buildings are protected by lightning rods. It has been found that the first point struck by lightning is that at which the greatest heating effect is produced and that if no inflammable materials are present there, the danger of fire following the stroke is greatly diminished. Inflammable vapors form better conductors than air and if no rods are furnished to buildings when such vapors are issuing they are liable to which struck and when struck more liable to take fire than if supplied with rods. The English association of telegraph engineers have furnished more valuable information. The poles of their lines were frequently struck until they mounted them with wire running from top to the ground. They have found that it is well to have a large mass of metal in the ground connected with the wire and that the latter should be as straight as possible. The rods should be continuous and present no points, except at the top; insulation under such circumstances is not necessary.

It is so well understood that metallic substances attract currents of electricity, that it hardly seems necessary to warn people to keep away from them during thunder storms unless they are in some way properly grounded. Such substances being good lightning conductors, the passage over them of bolts of electricity never leaves any marks. A person standing near a properly grounded wire or rod at the time would not be effected in the least by the current passing over it.

You have got to hand it to Towanda that it is the best town in Northern Pennsylvania or Southern New York. To Towandians it is the best town on earth.

An exchange well remarks that the Republican nominations are evidently calculated to enthuse the party workers, and they count some.

HOUSEWIFE'S CRY HEARD.

At last the cry of the housewife has been heard, says the Williamsport Sun. The government has come to her relief, and has taken steps to see that the prices of groceries shall be lowered. There has been much talk about the higher cost of living, and no one has appreciated it more than the women who have noticed the lightening of their pocketbooks and of their market baskets at the same time. The Southern Grocery trust has been brought to account and its grocers are to be forced to explain the reason for the high prices which it is alleged their combination has maintained. It is believed that the effect of the action will be felt by other sections and will result in restricting the activity of other similar organizations. Besides appealing to the court to dissolve the association itself and declare it illegal, the government asks that every one of its 500 members or more be forever prohibited from entering into any agreement among themselves as to the prices at which they should sell the necessities of life.

They are alleged to be wholesale grocers dealing in interstate commerce in sugar, flour, cakes and crackers, soap and washing powders, salt, milk products, canned goods, syrups and other necessities of life. They are charged with being engaged in a conspiracy to maintain prices. It is alleged that hundred of thousands of dollars have been distributed to members of the association by its officers as a reward for maintaining prices and other sums have been assessed as fines and penalties for underelling the price list.

THE DIFFERENCE.

A man named Vanderbilt drove a four-in-hand from London to Brighton one day for a fad.

A man named Adams drove four horses hitched to a sulky plow and in one day "broke" enough new ground to raise many bushels of wheat and potatoes and corn, which will feed many hungry stomachs—and there was not one word in the newspapers of even his home town about the feat of Adams.

Vanderbilt held the reins; the horses; poor devils, driven to exhaustion did the hard work. Vanderbilt is a wonderful whip!

Adams worked hard, lifting his gang of plows over roots and stones, and his horses worked still harder, straining in the collar, being jerked this way and that by stones and roots.

Vanderbilt wore a gay suit of tailored cloths; Adams wore overalls and blouse.

Vanderbilt wore on his hands dogskin gauntlets; Adams, sunburn and callouses.

Vanderbilt raised a disturbance; Adams will raise foodstuffs.

Yet most of you would criticise the editor of your favorite newspaper if he gave three inches of space to Adams; and you read with avidity a column about Vanderbilt.

THE CASE OF ONE WOMAN.

This is a story of a woman's steady courage.

She is a janitress.

For several years she suffered the infliction of a drunken husband, who finally left her the heritage of bitter memories and two small children.

To support herself and little family she took charge of a building. That was twenty years ago. She is still janitress of the place.

Out of her earnings she gave to her children what she was denied—accommon school education. And, besides, she threw up a dike against a possible flood of disaster—a neat savings bank account.

The flood came.

Inheriting disease from the father, the children died, one after the other, shortly after they had reached their majority.

The illness, the expense of the funerals and the two headstones side by side in the cemetery took the woman's entire savings.

She went back to work the next day after each of the funerals, her face a shade graver, but with a sad smile on her features for those who knew her.

And now she has thrown up one more barrier against misfortune in another little bank account. And always she is welcome everywhere because of the sunshine in her face.

Never in twenty years has she whined or whimpered or obtruded of her troubles.

Asked one day the secret of her brave fight, she replied:

"It never changes a thing to complain, and people do not like it."

A commonplace tale?

It is not. It is a story of unusual bravery and of woman who, though uneducated, is in the possession of an unusual philosophy. Read it again:

"It never changes a thing to complain, and people do not like it."

About the most useless habit one may acquire is that of complaining of one's difficulties. The condition is merely made worse by self centered whining and moping.

And certainly "people do not like it." They have troubles of their own.

He who is forever finding fault with his situation in life becomes an intolerable bore. If he can help himself he should do so; if he cannot help himself he should grin and bear it—and keep still.

The world is quick to respond to the plea of real distress, but it has no patience with a quitter and a chronic grumbler.

Let the whiner scrub floors like this little woman—and smile.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.s

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

CHERRY PIE.

Now we have cherries galore and the cherry pie smiles in every kitchen and graces every table. It is the great democratic pie, as every one can have it, if not from his own tree then from those of his neighbor or from the wild tree of the wayside.

It is a good, juice pie, with the life of red blood in it, and so greets you more heartily and joyously than the more dignified peach, apple and other varities of pie. It seems to bubble over with richness which takes all cruelty and indigestion out of the crust.

Above all, to old city men, country bred, it brings up recollections of boyhood, of the picking of the cherries, the baking of the pie as mother only could make it, of the appetite of youth when mouths water at the sight of a scortched crust with red richness exuding from its pores and of its toothsomeness when the workmen of the hay field sat in the shade to devour this great product of the bakery. Then, too, the old country boy can remember the bit of verse he spoke in school about the pretty girl's chief ability being the accomplishment of making a cherry pie "quick as a cat can wink her eye."

Yes, many a tender memory of youth circles around a cherry pie. Within its boundaries lie many a lesson and moral and between its upper and hether crust is the record of accidents, romances and the refrains of poems and unsung songs. The Chicago Tribune alludes to all this in the following words, evidently written by a scribe who was once a country boy:

To enjoy thoroughly the gift of beneficent nature one should be twelve years old, live in a small town, have ten cherry trees in the back yard, and have a mother who can bake a cherry pie without spilling a drop—the kind they used to sing about—"Can she bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy?" The inquiry shows that it was a sort of civil service examination for matrimony. One should climb up a tree with a basket and fight the robins. The only time when a robin really is a dangerous bird of prey is during the cherry season. One should fill the basket without falling out of the tree and breaking one's leg. A cherry pie will help a broken leg, but a broken leg adds nothing to the merits of a cherry pie. Nothing can.

One should sit, then, on the kitchen steps, close to the rain water pump, and watch the operations of pie baking until, uplifted by the sight and infeels the spirit of a patriot, if not the spirit of a martyr, working within one, and, with this holy stimulus, pitches in and scrubs the front porch until called to dinner.

There are other ways of enjoying cherry pie, but this is the best. Unfortunately one does not always remain 12 and one does not always have 10 cherry trees in the back yard.

There is nothing that contributes more to rural uplift than good roads. For social and economic improvement communication must be easy. Without good roads it is impossible for the people of rural communities to meet and discuss ways and means of improving rural society.

Hull of Athens, acted in the capacity of master of ceremonies.

The first speaker called upon was Col. J. H. Horton of Buffalo, who made brief remarks on his recent trip to the scene of the battle of Gettysburg. Captain G. W. Kilmer followed Mr. Horton, singing the old war song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." The audience was requested to join in the chorus, and responded with enthusiasm and feeling. Judge A. C. Fanning delivered a brief address, taking for his subject Patriotism. He spoke in his usual entertaining manner and his remarks were listened to with interest.

Short addresses were made by Chaplain Blair, J. Andrew Wilt and others. They spoke of the patriotism displayed by the wives and members of the soldiers, adding other interesting facts which are appropriate at a camp fire. Major W. H. H. Gore was called upon for an address but was physically unable to do so and asked to be excused on that account.

During the exercises, J. R. Thomas of Williamsport, sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and received loud applause.

At the close of the exercises all stood and sang in chorus the national hymn, "America," after which Rev. H. G. Blair pronounced the benediction. Edward Walker then sounded "taps" signifying "all lights out." The music for the evening was furnished by Walker's orchestra.

SPENT A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

But Lost All Hope of Cure—Grew Worse and Worse in Spite of Many Doctors and Three Years of Hospital Treatment—Inflammation Made Her Almost Crazy with Pain.

CURED BY TWO SETS OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. When I showed my foot to my friends they would get really frightened. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"I had seen the advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies a great many times but could not make up my mind to buy them, for I had already used so many medicines. Finally I did decide to use the Cuticura Remedies and I tell you that I was never so pleased as when I noticed that, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with a similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend them to use Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

"Mrs. Bertha Sachs is my sister-in-law and I know well how she suffered and was cured by the Cuticura Remedies after many other treatments failed. Morris Sachs, 321 E. 89th St., New York, N. Y., Secretary of Deutsch-Ostrower Unt.-Verein, Kempner Hebrew Benevolent Society, etc."

A single set of Cuticura Remedies, costing but one dollar, consisting of Soap to cleanse, Ointment to heal and Pills to purify, has frequently cured chronic cases of torturing, disfiguring humors of infants, children and adults when the best methods known to the profession had failed. Guaranteed absolutely pure.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Cuticura Book, an Authority on Skin and Scalp Diseases.

C. H. JENNINGS OFFERS SILVER CUP

Here Is Starter For Annual Hill Climbing Contest.

The success of the automobile hill climbing contest in Towanda on Saturday and the attending interest has created a desire for an annual event of this kind. It is a well known fact that Wilkes-Barre's greatest fame and prominence in the automobile world comes through the hill climbing course established there a couple of years ago by the Wilkes-Barre Automobile club. A short time ago the annual contest took place, and over 50,000 strangers visited the city, and then journied three miles outside the city limits to see the contest which lasted about five hours. The result of this is that Wilkes-Barre is a big auto centre, with a couple of big factories, and other manufacturers looking for a location there simply because it is an automobile center.

Towanda can be made the equal if not the superior of Wilkes-Barre in the automobile game by making the hill climbing events an annual affair. It is believed that a meet on the next day or two following the Wilkes-Barre meet would bring the mapority of the cars and drivers from that city here for the contest, together with the hundreds of followers of the game.

The most of the prizes offered in such contests are gold and silver cups together with cash prizes for the best time. Now then, in order to make this an object in Towanda, it would be necessary to offer several prizes worth contesting for, and as a starter in this line, Cortez H. Jennings, one of Towanda's best known and most substantial citizens, offers to give a prize cup which will be well worth winning. It is believed that if the Business Men's association and the hotel keepers should offer cups, and then the local automobile owners form an association and offer another cup, the biggest part of the proposition would be provided for. The Towanda Automobile club, if such an organization was formed, would have the meet in charge, and would make all the preliminary arrangements.

In order to make the Bridge street course ideal it would be necessary to improve the road, and build slopes at the curves so the cars could turn them on high speed. This would not cost much, and it is believed that the cost of repairing the road could easily be provided for.

Without much effort, and little cost, Towanda could be a mecca for automobilists for a day at least each year. What do you think about it citizens?

MUST NOT DUN CREDITORS THROUGH THE MAILS.

Postoffice Department Makes Another New Ruling.

A news dispatch from Washington says: "Business men, especially those who are engaged in making loans which they attempt to collect through the mails, should be careful about placing "dunning" notices on the face of their letters containing bills which they are impatient to collect, because the Postoffice Department has just ruled that ruled that such matter is unmailable under the provisions of the postal laws and regulations. "This practice has been brought to the attention of the department and the assistant attorney general for the Postoffice Department decided that the custom adopted by some firms is not lawful. Envelopes submitted by a business firm to the department bore in one case the stamped impression.

"Past due. This account has no doubt escaped your notice. Will you please favor us with a remittance and oblige?"

In another case the words "collection department" written in red ink was submitted. These notices apparently had been adopted by firms who feared that their bills were so well known to the recipients from the appearance of the envelpoes and that they found their way into waste paper baskets unopened."

An Old Claim.

Suit has been filed at Harrisburg against State Senator C. F. Wright, representing the State, for $104.60, alleged to be due to the heirs of Henrich Jones, who died in Philadelphia in 1850, leaving that sum to his credit in the Philadelphia Savings Society. In 1882 the money went to the state as an unclaimed deposit. Now J. J. Stratton, administrator of the estate, claims it on behalf of two children of the decedent.

Lehigh passenger train No. 7, one of the fastest and best trains on the road met with a bad accident at Freelandsburg near Bethlehem Wednesday about noon, but fortunately no one was killed. Nineteen passengers were injured, but none seriously.

The train was running at a high rate of speed, when the tender left the track, followed by the six coaches. One of the coaches partly toppled over, throwing the passengers around, and shaking them up. The rest of the coaches remained upright, and the passengers escaped with a shaking up.

FOUNDER OF ST. AGNES SCHOOL PASSES AWAY.

Sister Mary Clement Died Thursday Night in Wilkes-Barre.

A life spent in a most worthy cause, that of caring for the sick and injured, was brought to a close Thursday evening when Sister Mary Clement of the Mercy hospital, Wilkes-Barre, died at the institution. She had been ill with general debility for the past two years and despite her long affliction she remained cheerful to the end Sister Clement was seventy-two years of age. She had been connected with the Mercy hospital since its establishment, going there from Towanda where she founded St. Agnes school. Up until the time she was taken ill she was in charge at the hospital pharmacy where by her painstaking efforts she succeeded in doing much for the advancement of the hospital's interests. She was well known and greatly beloved in Towanda and vicinity.

Siser Clement was buried on Monday morning in the sister's plot in St. Mary's cemetery. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the convent chapel over the remains before they were taken to the cemetery.

Children's Day at the Baptist Church.

(Communicated.)

Sunday was Children's Day at the First Baptist church. In the morning the pastor spoke on "Child life and the responsibilities of parents." In closing the address the pastor gave some very good advice to parents which would be well for all to remember. It was as follows: Never scold a child; never brutally whip them; never laugh at their troubles and mistakes; never lie to them; never make a promise to them and break it; never frighten a child; never take them to the theatre, it excites their mind and brain; never tell them ghost stories; never shut a child in a dark room to punish them, punish them rationally, use common sense; let the child know why you punish it; never shake a child or box their ears; never punish a child for doing things you do yourself; never leave a child alone in the house; do not pitch your voice in a high key when reprimanding them, speak firmly and gently; never tell a child you "will knock its head off if it does not mind," you know you will do nothing of the kind; never allow a child to play in the streets; do not put them to bed when they are crying;, dry their ears, encourage them to tell you their sinful acts, pray with them, and kiss them good night." The Children's Day exercises were held in the evening. A large congregation gathered to listen to the little ones. The program was excellent and did credit to those who had it in charge. The superintendent of the Sunday school spoke earnestly in closing, urging the importance of looking after the spiritual education of the child.

Decide Against Golden Seal.

Says yesterday's Elmira Advertiser: "City Judge Heller has just decided the action of Hannah C. Spencer, of this city, against the Order of the Golden Seal, a fraternal insurance organization, in favor of the plaintiff. Mrs. Spencer claimed sick benefits from the society, and made claim for them. The company refused to pay on the ground that payment of a claim is made at its own discretion, and that she should appeal to the Supreme Council. Judge Heller decided that any member in good standing should receive insurance, and the company had no right to withold it. Sixty dollars is awarded the plaintiff and the costs are charged to the Order of the Golden Seal.

Fire Destroys Grist Mill.

The large grist mill, purchased a month or two ago at Bodines by J. R. Dillin of Troy, burned last week Tuesday morning. The blaze was under such headway when discovered at 1:30 o'clock that little could be done toward saving the mill. It started apparently in the rear. The loss was partially covered by insurance. Mr. Dillin was interested with his father, the late George Dillin, in the mill at Troy which burned five years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Dillin will return to Troy to reside.

Good Crop of Alfalfa.

It has already made a 15-inch growth or better on the second crop. Barring unfavorable weather there will be a third cutting, which should bring up the total for the season to more than four tons to the acre."

ROYAL ARCANUM MET IN ATHENS TUESDAY.

Visitors Pleasantly Entertained by Queen Esther Council.

The regular meeting of the Associated Councils of Royal Arcanum of Northeastern Pennsylvania held the sessions in Grand Army hall in Athens Tuesday evening as guests of Queen Esther Council of Athens. There were thirty delegates present from Scranton Hazleton, Dunmore, Susquehanna, Lackawanna, Wilkes-Barre, Carbondale, Sayre and Athens. The out of town delegates were Walter Bevan, F. F. Stover, Fred A. Frey, William McCauley, C. J. McCaffery, Charles B. Kelley, Victor H. Lauer and John J. Davis of Scranton; Bernhard Heller and Ira A. Mann of Hazleton; E. J. Kresson, W. L. Tulp of Wilkes-Barre W. H. Kosnan of Carbondale; Harry Holdredge of Susquehanna and Augustus H. Nichols of Philadelphia.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the President, Victor H. Lauer of Scranton after which C. T. Hull gave the address of welcome which was responded to by P. J. McCaffrey of Scranton. The objects of the meetings is to associate themselves together and consult as to the best measures to promote the growth of the order. The new ratings of the October 1905 had created wide discontent which reduced the membership, but now new vigor has been imparted in the order which is showing itself by great additions to the rolls of the growing councils. Hazleton has lead in the recruiting of members but Lackawanna is well in the advance column and will soon place themselves to the front.

Major Alexander H. Nicholas of the Philadelphia Custom House was orator of the evening and gave an eloquent talk on the beneficial feature of the order. Major Nicholas was a splendid soldier of the Civil War, loosing one leg while fighting under the flag and he keeps up his enthusiasm all through the battle of life.

The next meeting will be held in Scranton the third Friday in September when they will be the guests of Lackawanna Council.

TO SAVE SOME OF THE FOURTH OF JULY VICTIMS.

State to Distribute Anti-Tetanus Serium For Use of the Poor.

Health Commissioner Dixon plans to fight for the lives of poor children of Pennsylvania who may be in danger of tetanus by distributing anti-tetanus serum free of charge to such needy one as may be injured by explosions on July 4.

The serum will be distributed at forty-two points throughout Pennsylvania, chosen by reason of their accessibility. The danger of tetanus from explosive wounds is very great, as the appalling sacrifice of lives in the past shows. If, promptly after the wound is received, the injured one is treated with immunizing doses of anti-tetanus serum the danger of lockjaw developing is warded off, just as diphtheria anti-toxin is used to protect children who have been exposed to that disease. That no poor child in Pennsylvania shall die for want of this preventive treatment is the purpose of Health Commissioner Dixon.

These tetanus anti-toxin stations will furnish the serum on the application of a physician who certifices that it is for the use of an indigent case. The doctor also agrees to furnish the State Department of Health with a clinical report of the cases for tabulation and study.

The anti-tetanus serum will be distributed from the following places in this section: Towanda, E. P. Kester, druggist; Galeton, J. W. Robertson; Montrose, F. D. Morris; Wellsboro, Bluchley; Laporte, A. H. Bushhausen; Honesdale, C. C. Jadwin.

FOUR HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS ON ONE CORNER.

Accidental Meeting of Five Old Towandians.

There was an unusual meeting in front of Kilmer's grocery store at the corner of Main and State streets Wednesday morning—a gathering of 438 years and five months of life. Five men, whose combined ages total nearly half a thousand years in front of the Kilmer grocery and they talked of old times, and the old home days which begin today.

Following are the names of the men, together with their ages:

J. A. Record 94 years and 6 months.

Seth Vargason, 93 years and 10 months.

Ed. Dewers, 81 years and 4 months.

Stephen Lewis, 79 years and 3 months.

F. K. Coon, 89 years and 6 months.

These men met by chance, but it proved one of the most remarkable gatherings in the history of Towanda.

An interesting program is being arranged, and Miss Robinson, a field worker for the State Association, will be present, which will greatly add to the interest of the occasion. Every Sunday School should be represented by delegates.

EXERCISES IN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Good Program Carried Out Friday Afternoon.

Appropriate exercises for home comers were held in the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. A good sized audience was in attendance to hear the addresses and the fine musical program which was rendered.

The exercises were opened by music by Walker's orchestra and was followed by a short prayer by Rev. D. D. Campbell, D. D. pastor of the First Methodist church of Towanda. President Herbert S. Putnam then introduced Rev. John S. Stewart, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Towanda.

Although nearly four score years of age, Dr. Stewart is still an able and forceful public speaker and yesterday's address was a good example of his oratorial ability. Dr. Stewart says that he belongs to the noble army of "hold-ons," having resided in Bradford county for 40 years and in Pennsylvania for 58 years. He spoke of the many changes he has seen in Bradford county. Prominent men who controlled the affairs of the county forty years ago, have passed away and a younger race and geenration have taken their places. The business of Towanda, Athens, Troy and Canton is in new hands. He divided the progress of the county into three parts, religion, education and prosperity, and treated each one in an interesting manner.

Following the address of Dr. Stewart a quartette composed of Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ruggles, Mrs. Hill and Miss Lauderbach sang a pretty song in their usual excellent manner.

Albert T. Lilley of Leroy, the lecturer of Pomona grange, and one of the best informed men in history in this section, delivered the next address. He took for his theme the history of this section, and handled it in a way that no stone in the historical path was left unturned. He told many interesting facts and related many reminiscenses of the early days of this section.

Music by Walker's orchestra was followed by a recitation by Miss Mildred Smith, who was greeted with a round of applause. The quartette sang another beautiful song, which was followed by impromptu talks by the Old Home Comers and others. The exercises were closed by music by the orchestra.

At the Sayre Hospital.

On Friday C. W. Newman of Wyalusing, was taken to the Packer hospital suffering from adenitis, a swelling of the neck. It is hoped to reduce the swelling without resorting to an operation, and as he is gradually improving under the treatment, it is believed that an operation will be unnecessary. On the same day, Dr. Terry also took Fred Butts, the 11-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Butts of Lime Hill, to the same institution, the boy suffering from periostis, an inflammation of the tissue covering the bones of the leg. He underwent an operation on Saturday, and is improving.—Rocket.

Dairy Department Loses.

A news dispatch from Wilkes-Barre says: "The State Dairy and Food Department lost an important case in Court this afternoon. The department caused the arrest some time ago of representatives of the Hillside Dairy Company on charges of selling milk and cream which contained formaldehyde. Judge Ferris took the case away from the jury on the ground that the evidence had not showed that the cream was offered for sale. Great interest was manifested in the outcome of the case, as J. N. Conynham, the millionaire, is the head of the dairy company.

Towanda a Distributing Point.

Towanda has been designated as one of the forty-two distributing points by Dr. Samuel Dixon, State health commissioner, for the giving out of anti-tetanus serum, incident to the demands occasioned by the Fourth of July celebration. The danger of lockjaw resulting from a Fourth of July accident is minimized by the use of this serum, which is to be distributed free of charge to the victims. Kester's drug store will be the local distributing place.

A Graduate in Medicine.

Miss Jennie Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dean, who formerly lived in Athens, graduated from the Cornell Medical School of New York, last week. Miss Dean was a graduate from the Athens high school and later from the Scientific department at Cornell and has now graduated from this school in New York which makes her a full fledged M. D. Miss Dean begins work next week in the Kings Park hospital at New York. She with her mother and sister, are now living at Minneola, L. I.

Satisfied With Towanda.

A well known professional man came in to The Review sanctum Wednesday and said that he had been laboring under the belief that Towanda would not amount to much until the big power dam was built, but after hearing Judge Fanning's address at the rose fair in the Methodist church Tuesday evening, he had changed his mind. "Towanda is all right, dam or no dam," concluded the professional man, and surely he has the right idea.

The Home Beautiful.

Every family takes pride in the home that is well painted with the L. & M. Paint. One coat only beautifies and also adds value and increases its saleable chances. The L. & M. LITTLE BOY FELL FROM FIRE ESCAPE

Landed on Rough Stone Pavement. Miraculous Escape.

The six years old son of Mr. and Mrs Charles Burlingame who reside in the Cullom block on South Main street, had a miraculous escape from death last evening about 6:30. He fell from the fire escape on the second floor of the building to the stone pavement below, a distance of about 20 feet and escaped with a few bruises.

The Burlingame family reside in the rear end of the Cullom block on the second floor. One of the exits of their rooms opens to the fire escape on the outside of the building. While the mother was busy with her household duties the little fellow wandered out onto the fire escape. It was not long before she heard a sickening thud and she at once realized that her child had fallen to the street below. She rushed to the scene of the accident and by the time she had reached the street some of the neighbors had picked the little fellow up and were carrying him upstairs.

It was thought at first that the boy had been fatally injured. Dr. T. Ben Johnson, Jr., was called and gave the child the necessary medical attention. On examination it was found that no bones were broken but there is possibility that the boy has been injured internally. Late last evening the little fellow was resting comfortably.

From the second story of the fire escape to the ground below is a distance of about twenty feet. The ground is covered with cobble stones and it was on these stones that the little fellow landed. In what position his body was in when he struck the pavement is not known but it is hardly possible that he could have landed on his head for his skull would no doubt have been crushed. It is nothing short of miraculous that the little boy escaped with his life.

Knapp Sentenced to Auburn Prison.

Charles P. Knapp, one of the firm of Knapp Brothers, private bankers of Deposit, N. Y., which failed over a year ago at the time the Binghamton Trust Company's doors were also closed, was convicted of receiving a deposit in his bank on the day before it closed, knowing at the time that the bank was insolvent. Knapp was immediately sentenced to Auburn Prison for not less than 15 months or more than two years.

The failure of Knapp Brothers was due to excessive and unsecured loans to the Outing Magazine publishers, and it was the crash of the banking firm that caused the suspension and subsequent liquidation of the Binghamton Trust Company. Charles J. Knapp, an uncle of the man just convicted, and a member of Knapp Brothers, as well as president of the Binghamton Trust Company, is indicted on a like charge and his trial is also scheduled to be held in Otsego County.

Peculiar Accident.

A peculiar automobile accident happened in Owego, when a tire was punctured and the steel rim, which holds it in place, ran along the highway and shot across the walk through a window in Elmer Hallstead's cigar and confectionery store. The rim grazed the head of Edwin McCoy, who stood on the walk in front of the store, and turned his hat around on his head. The large tire also left the wheel and ran ahead of the car on the avenue for a distance of about 150 feet, when it came in contact with the billboard on B. F. Birdsall's lot. Mr. Gray paid for the damage done to the window.

THEY ARE NOW DRILLING FOR OIL IN ASYLUM SOIL.

Work is Well Under Way—Stockholders Are Sanguine.

Says this week's Wyalusing Rocket: "Work was commenced in putting down the well for oil at Asylum last Thursday, the drilling actually beginning on that day, and by this time the drill has penetrated to a depth of close to one hundred feet.

"So far as the drill has gone, every indication is found to be very similar that on the Ormsby farm in the Bradford oil field, one of the most paying fields in the "oil regions." The first of the week the drillers began putting in the drive pipe and for the next week they expect to drive at least thirty feet every day.

"We suggest that our people keep a close watch on the operations in this field for the next few weeks, as the determination of those interested and all indications point to "something doing" at Asylum in the year of 1910."

NOTHING TO LIVE FOR AFTER WIFE PASSED AWAY.

Seventy-Eight Year Old Man Ends Life By Hanging.

This week's Meshoppen Enterprise gives the following account of a suicide near that place:

"There was a sad event occurred near Lynn last week Thursday evening. Durand Chamberlain went to the barn for a bucket of coal and was horrified to see Ithamar Conrad hanging by the neck to a beam of the barn. He had not been gone long from the house, but life was extinct. He was boarding with Mr. Chamberlain.

"Mr. Conrad was born in Springville township in 1832 and was 78 years old at the time of his death. He leaves two children to mourn his demise.

"His wife died eight years ago and he remarked the day before his death that he had never had an hour's peace and happiness since her death, and those that have never undergone such sadness cannot tell the utter loneliness of being all alone. Who can tell of what dark thoughts come in the mind in such circumstances, until it grows to be a reality? He was a good neighbor always willing to do a kindness and his friends wonder that his life should thus end."

BATTLE WITH SNAKES.

Meshoppen Young Lady's Courage and Promptness Defeat Reptiles.

While on the way to the office of the Wyoming Valley Stone Co., where she is employed as stenographer, Miss Elizabeth Harley of Meshoppen, was suddenly confronted by a huge blacksnake on Friday last. The snake showed a disposition to retreat but at once prepared to attack the young lady, who very pluckily stood her ground. She availed herself of the stone chips which were handy and succeded after a lively bombardment in stunning the reptile, and was about to despatch it when two smaller but very vicious snakes appeared. Fortunately at this juncture the young lady was reinforced by Mr. Stafford and Mr. Baldwin, who had heard the battle going on, and the three snakes were finally killed. The largest one measured four feet ten inches in length.

This example of feminine courage and ability to act promptly in an emergency successfully refutes two antiquated and much loved adages: that a woman can't throw a stone straight and that she is afraid of snakes. Several other blacksnakes have been killed in this vicinity during the the week and it would seem to be the part of wisdom for the ladies to put aside the dictates of fashion and replace the pretty ties which are so dear to their hearts with cowhide boots.—Meshoppen Enterprise.

Mail From An Automobile.

Carrier James N. McKean of R. D. No. 3 is the first Towanda mail carrier to cover his route in an automobile. Thursday morning with C. P. Welles as chauffeur, and Editor Parsons and Postmaster Turner as ballast, he went over the route in a 22 horse power Maxwell in less than three hours. Starting from the Towanda postoffice a little after 8 o'clock delivery of all his mail was made in less than two and one half hours, but a long detour by way of Monroeton because of no bridge over Towanda creek near Hale's made the return trip considerably longer than usual. Carrier McKean does not expect to use the auto every day, but when he gets so he can operate it well, he will be able to give his patrons their morning paper before breakfast.

New Postoffice Order.

A new order of the Postmaster General has been received at the Towanda postoffice, as well as all other free delivery offices. This order directs that postmasters may work the carriers more than eight hours a day without pay for overtime, provided they are not employed more than 48 hours in each week of six days. It is expected that the order will save the government thousands of dollars, in view of the fact that heretofore if a carrier worked eight hours in one day and six another, he received pay for eight hours' time. Hereafter the carrier must work over 48 hours per week to get pay for overtime.

Fantastic Parade at Ulster.

The fantastic parade at Ulster for the celebration on the Fourth is well under way. Floats are being built and other arrangements rapidly completed. It will be the biggest parade the hustling up the river town has ever seen. A band of 20 pieces will lead it promptly at 1:30 p. m., and a colored band of 10 pieces will ride in a big wagon. Nothing is being left undown to entertain the people at Ulster on the ever glorious Fourth and it will be the biggest time the old town has ever seen. The fun will commence early and last throughout the day and night.

Work Progressing.

Says the Waverly Free Press: Contractor Whalen of Towanda, is in town today, looking over the work on the state road. Work on the road is progressing finely and the sub-grading is now practically completed from the East Waverly bridge to Emory Chapel. It is said that the heaviest grade will be 4½ feet to the mile on a stretch just east of the Rhoades farm. Those who have watched the contsruction of the road thus far say that it will, when completed, be one of the finest high ways in this part of the state.

An Old Home Comer.

Dr. Charles W. Stewart and wife of Salt Lake City, arrived in Towanda Wednesday and are the guests of the gentleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stewart, York avenue. Dr. Stewart was born in Herrick township, and in spite of the fact that he is an out and out Westerner, he still has a warm place in his heart for Towanda and Bradford county Last Friday after reading his favorite Bradford county paper, he jumped in the air, and said to his wife "get ready for a trip East. We are going to Towanda; the hills and fields of old Bradford county are calling, and I cannot resist." It is a long ways from Salt Lake City to Towanda, but the doctor and his wife did not take that into consideration, when the call of the old home was heard.

Plumbers Arrested.

Four Wilkes-Barre plumbers were arraigned before an alderman last evening at the instance of the Spring Brook Water Co. They were charged with tampering with the Wilkes-Barre water system and being responsible for the failure of people in the Heights section of that city to obtain water. The prosecution was under the act of 1874, providing for the punishment of those who tap water pipes without first securing permission. Judgment was given against the defendants.

NEW GLASS WORKS IS BOOMING.

Wayne Company Hiring Additional Help Every Day.

The Wayne Cut Glass Company, which was recently taken over by Towanda capitalists, and installed in the Tracy shoe factory building at the corner of Main and Elizabeth streets, is booming, and making better progress than the promoters even dreamed of or hoped for.

The skilled glass cutters who came to Towanda, have taken a great liking to the town, and are bringing their families here. The local people who have been given an employment are developing rapidly and regardless of the fact that the plant has been in operation only a short time, large orders have been filled, and the goods turned out will compare favorably with the best sent out from the largest factories in the country. Large orders are being booked daily, and now there is no fear to take the largest and most difficult order which the traveling representatives of the company come across. This is considered remarkable by those familiar with the glass cutting business. In some cases it has required six months to get a new cutting plant in such shape that it would be safe to guarantee the shipment of a large order on a certain date.

At present there are about 40 people employed in the factory, and by the first of July it is expected to have this number increased to at least 70 A large number of glassworkers in other towns, having heard of the success of the new plant in Towanda, have made application for positions, but local people are being given the preference. Owing to the large number of orders on the books of the company, new places are being made every day, and as fast as people come looking for work, they are told to take off their wraps and get busy.

The Tracy factory building is proving to be an excellent place for the plant. At first it was thought that the building was hardly adaptable, and that there would be much waste room, but luckily this was a false impresssion.

Mr. Kimble, the genial manager of the plant, says that he will make use of every available inch of space, and that in the course of a couple or three weeks, the big building will be alive with workers from the basement to garret.

Prohibs Name State Ticket.

Madison F. Larkin of Scranton, was nominated for governor of Pennsylvania by the Prohibition State convention at Harrisburg, Friday evening, being chosen over H. T. Ames, an attorney of Williamsport, and D. Clarence Gibboney, the Philadelphia reformer. Larkin received 92 votes to 33 for Ames and 10 for Gibboney. The rest of the ticket was made up of Charles E. McConkey, Grove City, Mercur county, for lieutenant governor; Irving W. Huckins, Philadelphia, for State treasurer, and Charles W. Hutingdon, Williamsport, for secretary of internal affairs. Disgusted with the party, although not with the cause, Rev. W. S. H. Heermans of Towanda withdrew from the convention. He opposed the woman's suffrage plank, and other features of the platform, and when Dr. Swallow put in oar of bossism Rev. Mr. Heermans left the convention hall and took the first train for Towanda.

Incipient Blaze.

Towanda just missed having a serious fire yesterday forenoon at 11 o'clock when the roof of the Graves carpenter shop in the rear of the Van-Horn creamery was found to be on fire. The two mile foot race was being run off at the time, and the postoffice clerks, men from the creamery and others went to work to extinguish the blaze without calling out the fire department. This they succeeded in doing after considerable hard work. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The damage was slight.

Owl Attacks Woman.

A news dispatch from Honesdale says: "While driving along the road between this place and Cold Springs recently Mrs. Frank Scudder was attacked by a large hoot owl, it being evident that the bird was angered at something. Mrs. Scudder wielded a heavy carriage whip which she had with her with such good effect that she laid the owl low and after capturing the stunned bird brought it to town with her. Later she sold the bird to Groceryman Knoll."

Prudential Men at Waverly.

The Prudential Insurance men of Ithaca, Owego and Towanda, held a meeting at Waverly Thursday of this week, and in the evening enjoyed a fine banquet at the Hotel Norwood. A trolley ride was another one of the features of the meeting. Those from Towanda in attendance were Snupe-intendent Tuthill and Solicitor P. J. Allen, William Fitzgerald and E. W. Rockwell.

Arranging Tournament.

The Game & Fish Protective association of Sayre, is preparing for a series of fishing and gunning tournaments and the rules of competition will be announced next week. The association has received offers from several manufacturers of sporting goods to contribute prizes. During the summer months there are to be fishing tournaments and during the autumn hunting tournaments.—Times Record.

Pleased With His Medal.

Blythe D. Watts, the famous runner of State College, who won first place in all the foot racing events in Towanda yesterday, was greatly pleased with the gold medal which he received as first prize in the two mile event. Of all the medals and prizes he has won during his career on the track, he says that the gold medal received yesterday is the best and handsomest.

LAWYER ARRESTED AND FINED FOR VIOLATING FISH LAWS.

Binghamton Legal Light Pays Dearly For Pennsylvania Information.

Lawyers are supposed to know everything, and as a rule they are a pretty bright lot, but here comes a legal light from Binghamton, N. Y., who seems anything but familiar with the Pennsylvania fish laws. That is, he was not so familiar until Saturday, when he paid dearly for some information regarding the acts of the Pennsylvania assembly which had for their purpose the protection of game fish. In other words he was arrested for violating the Pennsy fish laws, and was fined $20 and costs, making a total of $22.50, a nice little fee for "lawlight."

Charles Ahwen is his name, and his shingle floats in the breezes which hover about Binghamton. On Saturday with other gentlemen from New York state he went to Tuscarora creek in Tuscarora township, this county, and hired a boy to catch bait for him in a net. Just as they started, a small boy who was looking on told the party that Tuscarora creek was a trout stream, and a net could not be used in it. They gave no heed to the boy's warning, and Fishwarden Shoemaker was notified and later on Mr. Ahwen paid his fine and the costs and went his way, poorer but wiser.

SEVEN COUNTY FIREMEN WILL MEET IN ATHENS.

Convention Will Be Held During the Week of August 17.

Williard Spalding of Athens, was in Towanda last Friday making arrangements for the holding of the annual convention of the Seven County Volunteer Firemen's Association in that place during the week of August 17. The convention has been held in Athens just once since the association was organized, and as that was about 13 years ago, the members of the Athens department think that it is up to them to again entertain the convention, and this they propose to do.

While in Towanda Friday Mr. Spalding received the assurance of four of the five companies comprising the Towanda department that they would attend the convention with complete drill squads, and would take part in the contests.

Four companies from the Towanda department make a convention by themselves, but then there will be many other companies at Athens, and it is safe to say that even at this early date that the convention will be a great big success.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM THRIVING CAMPTOWN VILLAGE.

Lightning Strikes Residence and Does Much Damage.

A quiet and delightful home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Platt of East Herrick, on June 22, 1910. Their daughter, Dora Beatrice, was married at noon to Harold Fulletron Brister of Le-Raysville. Only immediate friends of the bride and groom were present. The parlor was tastily decorated in green and pink. The bride's dress was cream colored silk polin. She carried a cluster of white roses, and the impressive ring ceremony was used by the Rev. W. H. Stang, the couple standing under a beautiful bower of evergreen and roses.

After congratulations were given a generous luncheon was served; then the couple were taken to Towanda where they took the train for Elmira and other New York state cities. They expect to make their home in Binghamton in the near future.

Beautiful and useful presents were received by the bride. The young people have the well wishes of a large circle of friends.

John Welles of Auburn Corners, Pa. and Ezra Allen of Wyalusing, visited at C. H. Donovan's this week.

Henry Phinney of Skinner's Eddy, and Tohmas Lyons of Spring Hill, visited at John Howard's recently. Mr. Howard soon returned the visits, taking to each home a new piano.

Mrs. A. L. Tiffany, who was very low with pneumonia, is now convalescent and able to work some.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Titus attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Dora Platt on Wednesday. They also called on his mother, Mrs. George Titus of Cold Creek, who is quite feeble.

Last Saturday lightning struck the house of Melvin Coleman of Cold Creek, tearing out a large portion of the north gable, made a large hole in roof, tore off and loosened the plaster of several rooms, set fire to a bed upstairs and to a couch down stairs, wrenched the telephone from the wall and broke a glass door.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and their three sons were dazed for a few minutes, but recovered soon enough to extinguish the fire. It was fortunate that no one was killed, and was very fortunate that the fire was controlled before it burned up the wrecked house.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fisher went to East Herrick Tuesday evening and gave missionary addresses on their work in China. Mrs. Fisher taught school in that vicinity several years ago, and was pleasantly greeted by former friends.

From a Distance.

Many people are in town this week attending the Old Home celebration and some having come a great distance to visit with relatives and old friends. Following are the names of some of the visitors: E. W. Parks, Badare, Mich.; Mrs. P. J. Gates, Staten Island; Miss Nora Baden, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keeler, Dixon, Ill.; Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, Salt Lake City, Utah; C. M. Cornell Gets Large Sum.

Cornell University will receive the major part of the estate of Goldwin Smith who was prominently identified with the early history of the university. Professor Smith died recently at his home in Toronto. Announcement of the gift was made by President Schurman to the Alumni Association. Its value will not be known until the executors file the petition for probate next week. The will says. "I make this bequest to show my attachment to the university, to pay respect to Ezra Cornell, and to show my attachment as an Englishman to the union of the two branches of our race on this continent and with their common mother."

Will Sell Rugs at Cost.

Charles B. Reed, a representative of one of the largest rug companies in the country, is showing a fine line or oriental rugs in the office of his father, Dr. Charles Reed during the old home days. The line he has on exhibition is undoubtedly the finest ever brought to this section, and must be seen to be appreciated. To introduce his firm, and to make known the quality of the rugs, Mr. Reed will sell a number of them at cost. Call at Dr. Reed's at any time until Saturday evening and see these genuine oriental rugs.

An Old Timer.

Among the old timers visiting Towanda last week is Hon. C. H. Keeler of Dixon, Ill., who was born here sixty-nine years ago, within a stone's throw of this office. He is accompanied by his wife and his sister, Mrs. M. W. Vail of Sayre. The veteran was the first called upon for a short talk at the meeting yesterday afternoon, but having dropped his notes in the Susquehanna river while crossing the Athens bridge, Major Gore and "King" missed hearing the speech of their life time.

Troy Being Beautified.

The improvement of the Court House triangle at Troy, is rapidly nearing completion. A two-rail iron fence has been placed, which will inclose a nicely leveled lawn containing one or two flower beds. This, with the work already done by the Village Improvement Society and the generous trimming of trees by the borough, already makes a much neater and better appearing town.

Boy Is Recovering.

Paul, the six years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burlingame, who fell from the fire escape on the second story of the Cullen block to the stone pavement 20 feet below on Wednesday evening, is slowly improving. No serious developments have set in and it will be but a short time till the little fellow will be out again.

Athens Man Won Automobile.

Frank Morley of Athens, an employe of the Sayre shops, won the E. M. P. automobile chanced off by the Sayre Lodge of Elks. The drawing took place at Keystone Park, Sayre, on Saturday evening. A number of Towandians were interested in the drawing.

PROF. RYAN PASSES FROM MORTAL KEN

Death of Prominent Bradford County Educator.

Prof. George W. Ryan, who for five years was principal of the Towanda public schools, and for 18 years was superintendent of the public schools of Bradford county, died at the Ryan home on South Main street below the borough line Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He had been in poor health for the past eleven years and his death was not unexpected.

In the death of Prof. Ryan Bradford county loses a citizen who for years was prominent in educational circles in Northern Pennsylvania and Southern New York.

He is survived by his wife who was Harriet L. Stryker, and to whom he was married in 1861, and two sons, George L. Ryan of Towanda, and Alonzo S. Ryan of Denver.

The funeral will be held at the Ryan home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Sketch of His Career.

Prof. George W. Ryan was born in Green county, N. Y., on July 4th, 1839, therefore had he lived until next Monday he would have been 71 years of age. He was educated in the schools of his home county, and later pursued a course of study in New York city after which he was a teacher in a large commercial school. From New York city he came to Waverly, where he was assistant principal of the Waverly Academy under Principal Lang. In 1870 he came from Waverly to Towanda, and in the Fall of that year with the late Prof. E. E. Quinlan he took charge of the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute which had been closed for some time. Messrs. Ryan and Quinlan at the head, the S. C. I. became very successful, and continued so for many years, both under the guidance of Messrs. Ryan and Quinlan and later under the direction of Prof. Quinlan, who continued the school after Prof. Ryan was chosen principal of the Towanda public schools.

PROF. GEORGE W. RYAN.

It was in 1873 that Prof. Ryan was elected principal of the Towanda schools, the new high school building having just been completed, and the Board of Education was anxious to have at its head a man qualified not only as an educator but as a disciplinarian as well, and so persuaded Prof. Ryan to take up the work. He proved the right man in the right place and gave eminent satisfaction.

In 1878, Prof. A. A. Kenney, county superintendent of schools passed away and J. Andrew Wilt, now a practicing attorney in Towanda, was appointed to fill out his term as superintendent, serving acceptably until the June following his appointment, when he refused to be a candidate for the office at the triennial convention of the school directors of the county, declining in favor of Prof Ryan who was made the choice of the convention and served 18 years, or until 1896 when Prof. H. S. Putnam, the present superintendent was chosen.

During the eighteen years Prof Ryan served as superintendent, he earned for himself a reputation second to none connected with the educational affairs of Bradford county during its whole history. He took up the duties of the office with the successful experience of many years in the school room. As a teacher he was the very personification of discipline and thoroughness, and the persons who were fortunate as to be under his instruction have been loud in their praises of his worth as a teacher. He had special aptness for mathematics and science, his teaching was always marked with careful investigation and the pupil was thoroughly versed in the reasons for the rules and principles governing the subjects under consideration. His examinations as superintendent were a terror to the poorly prepared, while the announcement of his arrival in a community was immediately followed by the dusting and putting to order of the school room. His favorite motto, that "cleanliness is next to Godliness" was thoroughly understood by all the teachers of the county, and while in many cases his presence caused some nervousness on the part of the teacher as well as the pupils, yet the words of commendation which he was prone to utter, when he felt that they were deserved, were a sufficient reward for all the uneasiness which attended his visit.

He was an indefatigable worker and most of the early progress which has attended the schools in this county was due to his efforts. During the first two years he served as superintendent he made 961 visits to schools, reaching all of the 414 in the county once each year, except a few temporarily closed at the time of visit, and many a second time, averaging 1½ hours each. Held 134 public examinations, examined 1,545 teachers, issued 1,267 certificates, held several educational meetings, three special teachers' institute of one week each, and the county institute annually. Wrote 1,150 letters, mailed 4,500 circulars, copied and forwarded 56 annual district reports, and performed the other business pertaining to the office. He labored 558 days and traveled 7,500 miles. During this period several new school houses were built and a number of others were furnished with patent seats and desks, but very little was done, although the subject was being discussed in providing proper blackboards for school rooms. At the suggestion of Superintendent Ryan, colored crayon maps were constructed on the walls of the school rom by the pupils, thus remedying the neglect of the directors to furnish maps. Some of these maps may stil be seen in the older buildings throughout the county.

It was a fine compliment that the school directors paid to Prof. Ryan in electing him principal of the Towanda schools after he left the office of county superintendent, but he declined the honor, feeling that after many years in the educational harness he was entitled to a rest.

In his private life only words of praise can be spoken. He was a good husband kind father, and a splendid neighbor. His dignified manner, and his fine intellect had only the best of influence upon those with whom he came in contact. He was not in the habit of mingling much, but he had his close friends, and he was as close to them as a brother. All through the county he was universally respected and highly regarded by all who came in contact with him. Many of the men and women of today will look back to the days of Prof. Ryan, and regret that this splendid citizen and excellent educator is no more.

Prof Ryan was noted locally as a fisherman and hunter, he spending much of his leisure time in these pursuits. It was great sport for him to spear fish by torch light, and at this he was considered the most expert in this section.

He was good and great in more ways than one, and long will last the memory of his splendid deeds, and his work for the educational advancement of Bradford county.

OWANDA TOOK ANOTHER FALL OUT OF LACEYVILLE.

raintrim Boys Made Locals Fight Hard For Victory.

In one of the best games of the sea-on, Towanda won from Laceyville n the East Sideground last Friday y the score of 5 to 3, before the larg-st crowd of the season. Lacey-ille came prepared and confident of aking this, the second game played y these teams, having lost the first n their own grounds but the To-anda boys would not stand for that. isner, on the firing line for Towanda, itched an excellent game only nine its being made off his delivery, nd he received the giltedged upport that the home boys are lways capable of giving. Donovan who served them up for Laceyville had steam and control a plenty, the Towanda boys getting but seven safe bingles. His support was of the highest order. While both pitchers were touched up at times, the hits were scattered and with fast fielding, several double plays helping to keep he score down, the game was all that ould be desired from a spectators oint of view. The work of Bunnell nd Jones the two back stops, was xcellent.

The teams lined up as follows:

Laceyville		Towanda
Donovan,	Pitcher	Kisner
C. Bunnell	Catcher	Jones
D. Bunnell	1-st base	Hines
Lott	2d base	Byrnes

TOWANDA AND WAVERLY K. C. PLAY TO A STANDSTILL.

Game Called at End of Eleventh Inning With Score 3-3.

The Towanda baseball team encountered another tartar when hey stacked up against the strong Knights of Columbus team of Waverly Saturday afternoon in the last of th series of old home day games. At he end of the 11th inning the game was called a tie, the score being 3-3, in order that the Waverly team might take the evening train home.

There have been better ball games on the East side grounds, more brilliant playing to be sure, but from a spectator's standpoint, Saturday's battle was about the proper thing. There was some tall clouting, a total of 24 hits being made equally divded between the two teams; some good fielding, and then there were errors at critical times, only to be forgotten a moment later when a runner would be thrown out at the plate and the winning run prevented.

Max Cranmer was in the box for Towanda, and while he was in no condition for a hard game, he gave a splendid account of himself. Jones was behind the bat again, and his work was good as usual. Mahaney pitched for Waverly, and while he was off form, yet he twirled an unusually good game and was very effective in tight places. Reagan did the receiving, and on the whole his work was good, although it must be said that a battery error allowed Towanda to tie the score, the run counting when Kisner crossed the plate, Reagan having "blowed" one of Mahaney's wide ones.

It was a good game to watch, and the spectator who did not get a quarter's worth would be hard to please, baseballically speaking. The attendance was large, over 1,500 people watching the contest, counting those on the fence and railroad.

Following is the tabulated score which shows the fight in detail:

NEWS OF THE GRANGE

Conducted by A. T. LILLEY

The Grange is all right, and the farmers are mainly right. All that is necessary is to get the grange and the farmers harnessed up just right and trained to working in well fitting harness and all the wrongs that afflict agriculture would be easily rolled away.

This is the farmer's busy season of the year, but to the true patron there is no thought of dropping regular attendance at the grange from his routine of duties and privileges. A little more hustle only adds more enjoyment to the pleasures and profits of active operations all along the lines of helping one another build for the betterment of a chosen calling.

A Cornell professor says: "The farmer at last has one foot in the stirrup, and if prices will only go up 25 per cent more he will be in the saddle, and you know the man on horseback rules the world. It is a little laughable to see so many trying to climb over the turnips are all raised on when the turnips are all raised and ready to be harvested."

Tioga Pomona grange met in regular quarterly session with Union Center grange near Canton, on June 16. The weather was very unfavorable, but there was a good attendance. Worthy Master E. J. Tuttle presided. The reports from the subordinate granges show an increase of members and also the greatest number of members of any district in the state. The program under the supervision of Pomona Lecturer Lelia M. Coveney, was very good, consisting of lecturers' reports, music, recitations, discussions and remarks by many for the good of the order.

The lecturer showed much skill in her management of lecture work. Hon. Wm. B. Wilson gave a very considerate talk on "Good Roads," favoring state and national aid in their construction. When properly made and drained the dirt road is very serviceable. State Lecturer E. B. Dorsett gave a pleasant review of his work in the lecture field. National Lecturer Oliver Wilson of Illinois, gave an excellent address showing what the grange has done, is doing and is expected to do.

During many years past the grange has been talking and working for postal savings banks. Success has crowned the effort, and it is hoped the position taken by the grange in regard to parcels post will be held and not lost sight of until every household is given the privileges and benefits of a well regulated parcels post system. A system that will be an advantage to the producer and consumer; to the producer, consumer and the retail dealer, so that all may be benefitted, is just what our lawmakers ought to give us so well protected that everybody shall say "Well done, good and consistant servants."

A. B. Ashley in his address on "The Farmer; his past, present and future" at a recent session of Tioga Pomona, recited, "The crop of boys and girls is the best crop on the farm,, and then said, "Each one present should grow one every year."

The total membership of 33 of the granges of Tioga county is 4987, as may be seen by looking over the reports of the secretary. No report from seven granges.

Not one of the members of Tioga Pomona responded to the query "What is a weed?" There is not a member of Bradford and Sullivan Pomona who does not wish he never knew, but he knows just the same.

A publisher of school books says: "School books and periodicals are the two great educators, the rights and lefts of human progress. The school book prepares for life. The periodical the newspaper, the farm paper and magazine represent life. The school is to the pupil what the plow is to the soil, what the reaper is to the harvest, what the thresher is to the grain. Education is preparation; life is application. Education without life is dead. Life without education is barbarism."

The three factors that determine the cost of living are the production, the transportation, the distribution; no one of these factors should have advantage over any other but the interests of all should be safeguarded; these interests and you have solved the problem right, and the farms will be tilled and the demand for food stuffs supplied if returns are adequate."

The steady growth of any society is much to be preferred to a hurried growth that immediately goes to decay as is usual with all rapid growths of whatever kind. Proper care for the needs of life, whatever it may be, helps to prolong the desirable activities that yield support worthy the cause espoused. "Keep pegging away," is far better that spontaneous combustion. The fellow who hurrahs in every crowd soon falls to the rear and the cause is left in the lurch until another "melting down breaking up time" that perchance some other overzealous patron may inaugurate. Farm life is a continuous round of system, more or less understood by which all till the soil wither for profit, pleasure and perhaps from necessity but he must keep at it in order to success as a farmer or member of the grange. The farm will go to decay and the grange become dormant without laborers who are every ready to help, build, repair, or march with the victors of them any obstacles overcome in the field of labor.

The season of grange picnics is near at hand; many will attend and enjoy them in a purely social way. There are also many who would enjoy entertainment of something along the lines of contests or exhibits that might be of real benefit or pleasure to remember after return home from the picnic grounds. Variety is the spice of life and it is hoped that parties having charge of picnic programs may add a little at least to drive monotony away.

FIREMAN DAYTON PERRY WILL FULLY RECOVER.

Did Not Sustain Broken Back As Was Reported at First.

Dayton Perry of Kingsbury avenue, Towanda, will fully recover from the injuries he received while at work Sunday. He did not sustain a broken back as was first reported, and as was feared by his relatives and friends.

Mr. Perry was injured in a peculiar accident. He was firing one of three engines that were pulling a Lehigh train up the hill on the Bernice branch of the road. The engine ahead pulled with such strength and the backward drag of the train was so heavy that the engine in the middle of the train on which Perry was riding pulled loose from the tank. Perry was standing in the gangway and he simply dropped through the opening and struck a cross a rail, fracturing two ribs. His position seemed to be perilous for he was almost under the wheels. But when the engine broke from the tank the three ponderous machines dashed ahead and at the same time the rest of the train made a backward movement before the brakes struck the wheels with emergency pressure caused by the air hose breaking.

Mr Perry is under treatment at the Packer hospital and is getting along nicely.

Setling with Wreck Victims.

The Dallas Weekly Post says: "According to reports the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. is fast paying off the claims for damages resulting from the distastrous wreck at Stull a few weeks ago. In this wreck two people were killed outright and about 50 injured, several seriously. The wreck will be very expensive to the company, as will be seen by the following item forwarded to the Post from Alderson. The Epley people at Beth Run get $1,100 we hear, for the death of their little boy in the Stull train wreck, and Mrs. Pollock of Courtdale $1,800 for the loss of her young husband. B. Meeker of Beaumont got $900 for himself and wife who were both injured. These settlements appear to have been decidedly reasonable."

Well Pleased With Showing of Car.

The manufacturers of the E. M. F. automobiles are well pleased with the showing made by the E. M. F. car owned by David E. Kaufman, Esq., in the hill climbing events on Saturday. Attorney Kaufman sent his car, which is practically new, into the contest without the so-called "tuning up" and Eugene D. Means, one of Towanda's most skilled drivers run the machine up the mile hill in the fast time of 1:52, which was but four seconds slower than the best time made in the Class B event.

People's Hospital Notes.

E. O. Rockewll of Sayre was treated at the hospital yesterday morning for a laceration of his right knee.

The condition of Dominick Natz, the Italian who was recently shot and wounded at Waverly is improved and if not retarded by complication setting in, will recover.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING AFFRAY AT SOUTH WAVERLY.

Dominick Natz May Die From Bullet Fired By Unknown Party.

Dominick Natz, an Italian, was shot and probaly fatally wounded by an unknown party at South Waverly Sunday evening. Natz is in the People's hospital at Sayre, and his condition is very grave. The bullet penetrated the right breast and entered the lung. The doctors have been unable to locate the bullet.

The crime was committed near the Loder street bridge in South Waverly. Chief of Police Keegan of South Waverly heard the shot and started in the direction of the sound when he met several Italians carrying the injured man in a chair. Chief Keegan ordered the men to take him to the police station and a doctor was hastily summoned. The injured man was afterwards taken to the People's hospital in Sayre. When he arrived at the hospital he was conscious but would not talk. Identification was made possible by the finding of letters and papers in his pockets.

It is believed that the trouble originated in an Italian boarding house, located near the scene of the shooting. It is thought that Natz left the house by the back door and the would-be-assasin went out the front door and shot the man from a distance. The police have but few clues to work on as the Italians who have been questioned deny having any knowledge of the affair.

HAPPENINGS IN PENNSYLVANIA

The presence of mind of Miss Alice J. Kilpatrick, the principal, probably saved the lives of many of the 670 students in the Michael Arnold public school, Philadelphia, recently. Two boys who had played truant climbed up an enclosed fire-escape and threw down a railroad cap. Every window in the rear of the building was shattered and dense clouds of smoke came out of the place. The pupils were thrown into a panic and would have made a rush for the open air, only Miss Kilpatrick had presence of mind enough to pull a bell, which signal made them form in rank. Another teacher went to a piano and played while the students marched out. A policeman saw the culprits, Russell Price, aged 12, and Roland Robley, aged 13, and arrested them. Not one of students in the school was over 14.

Stood Too Long.

John Allison, aged 7, told his playmate, John Sugars, also aged 7, that he could stand in front of a Buffalo & Pittsburg engine on a trestle at Punxsutawney longer than he, and they tried it. When he started to jumped, he slipped and was crushed to death.

Because of her husband lay snoring peacefully after she had called him repeatedly, Mrs. Mary Borogu of North Booklock, decided to give him a shower bath to waken him up. No water being handy, she used a bowl of hot soup. It had the decided effect and wakened the man so completely that he let out terrible howls. Becoming excited, his gentle spouse followed up the first bath with a shower of indelible ink. He was taken to the hospital and the entire staff was called into consultation. They were unable to account for the man's peculiar color. Then the woman remembered about the ink and the puzzling case resolved itself into a huge joke. Borough's burns are so serious that it will take a couple of days' medical treatment to make him all right again.

He started for his tailor's to obtain his wedding suit and has not been seen since. The guests who were assembled for the happy event dispersed on receipt of the news. Relatives are heartbroken. The deserted fiance thinks that her intended has met with foul play. Her opinion is that, after being beaten and robbed, he was left to die in some lonely place. He was a young man of exemplary habits and had talked for days about his approaching marriage.

Millions of feet of lumber and hundreds of logs were washed down the swollen Cheat river past Point Marion recently, as the result of the heavy rains. A large portion of the town was inundated. In another storm as serious as that of Saturday night, the house of Thomas Phalin was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. An 80-foot span bridge, which came from no one knew where, floated down the stream and into the Monongahela river. The timber and logs are supposed to have come from the saw mills in the Sandy river section.

His condition was such that it was necessary to administer an anaesthetic before he was taken to a hospital. The woman in the case had run out on the street to warn the lad of his danger. Dalberg has been held in $500 bail pending the outcome of the lad's injuries.

To be treed by a big rattlesnake was the thrilling experience of Paul Hummel near Bloomsburg on Thursday afternoon. He claims he was working in a field with a scythe when he heard the warning rattle and turning, saw, coiled and ready to strike, a large diamond rattler. With a scream he dropped the scythe and fled. Hearing the snake chasing him, Hummel shinned up a nearby tree.

After keeping him company for fully an hour, the snake glided away into the tall grass.

David Jones and Joseph Kennedy, laundrymen of Wilkes-Barre filed a suit in equity against Gwynn Brown, a former employee, to restrain the latter from entering the employ of another person in the same business. The plaintiffs set forth that they made an agreement with Mr. Brown that he would not while in the employ of the plaintiffs nor within two years after business of collecting or delivering laundry. They further charge that he left their employ on June 18 and has entered the employ of the Oscar Smith laundry, collecting and delivering laundry, contrary to his written agreement made with the plaintiffs on Jan. 6. They charge that his violation of the agreement will work an injury to their business and ask that he be restrained from such work for the period of two years. The court awarded a preliminary injunction and fixed June 27, 1910, as time for the hearing.

J. B. Bunday a Lycoming county farmer, believes in re-forestation, and is putting his belief into practice for the benefit of a future generation of Bundy's. He has set apart two acres of his land for a forest reserve and on it has planter 5,000 2-year-old white pine seedlings purchased from the tree nursery operated by the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry, at Asaph, this county. The seedlings were sold at $2.50 per thousand, and the total cost of the plantation of 5000 trees, including the labor of planting, was only $22, or $11 per acre. Mr. Bundy figures that in 1970 this pine forest will be worth about $2,000 per acre, which he considers is pretty good interest on the investment, even if he doesn't live to enoy the income.

While irrigation projects are claimthe attention or some sections of the country, J. A. English, of near Cammal, has been engaged in solving the problem of getting rid of an oversupply of water and turning a swamp into a productive area. By digging a drain a quarter of a mile in length and six feet deep, Mr. English has transformed the supposed worthlestract into the most valuable piece of land in his farm, and corn planted on it this spring has attained such a growth that his neighbors are looking around for owners of swamp land who are desirous of getting rid of their holdings at bargain prices.

SHOULD KEEP CORRECT RECORD OF ALL PUBLIC ROADS

Highway Commissioner Hunter Sends Communication to Judge Fanning.

Judge Fanning has received a communication from Joseph W. Hunter, State Highway Commissioner, suggesting the importance of keeping a full and correct record in the State Department of all public roads and any changes in the same, in order that the State road may at all times be up to date, and that attention should be called by the Court to viewers, officers and attorenys in such purpose, and asking for compliance viewers, officers and attorneys in such with the Act of Assembly on the subet. This Act is as follows:

Requiring all petitions for the laying out of vacation of a public road to fix definitely the points of beginning and ending, and requiring the clerk of the court of quarter sessions, in any county, to certify the report of the jury of view to the State Highway Department.

Whereas, The State Highway Departent has been authorized to make "a complete survey of all the roads in the State, and shall cause to be made and kept for the State Highway Department a general highway plan of the State;" and

Whereas, In order to have the complete records, it is necessary to show on such plan all roads opened or vacated since the surveys were made: therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That hereafter all petitions for the laying out or for the vacation of a public road, in any county of the Commonwealth, shall fix definitely the point of begining and the point of ending, mentioned in said petition, by giving the exact distance from an intersecting public road, street, or railroad, already opened.

Section 2. Upon the confirmation of the report of the jury of view by the court of quarter sessions, it shall be the duty of the clerk of said court to immediately certifiy a copy of said report, with the accompanying draft, to the State Highway Departent.

Section 3. The compensation to be paid by the State Highway Departent to the said clerk of court of quarter sessions shall be three and 50-100 ($3.50) for each certification.

Approved—The 23d day of April, A. D. 1909.

EDWIN S. STUART.

It is to be hoped that all persons connected in any way with the subject referred to should assist the Highway Department in every reasonable way to carry out this practical work, although it may be a question as to its strict application under the local road laws enforced in Bradford County in laying out and altering the highways; the Act apparently being directed to counties where road viewers are apopinted by the Court of Quarter Sessions.

The World's Best Cow.

From time to time there appears in print the record of what is alleged to be the world's best cow, several claiming the ownership of such animal. The issue of June 17 of Hoard's Dairyman states that "De Kol Queen La Polka 2d," owned by Clayton S. Sisson of Sherburne, Chenango county, N. Y., is the best cow in the world. The record of this cow is one day's milk, 124 lbs.; seven days milk, 841.8 lbs.; thirty days' milk, 3376.5 lbs.; seven days' butter, 35.38 lbs.; thirty days' butter 14513 lbs. The cow is kept at present in an ordinary stable with rigid stanchions. She is milked four times in twenty-four hours. The roughage part of the ration during the first part of the test was about 40 lbs. of good corn ensilage, 10 to 15 lbs. of mixed hay, and about all the beets the cow would eat. The grain ration was an average of 15 pounds per day of a mixture of the following proportions: 200 lbs. bran, 200 lbs. dry distillers grain, 250 lbs. gluten meal, 100 cottonseed meal, and 100 lbs. of hominy meal, and some milk. During the last part of the test grass was substituted for ensilage and beets. The average per cent of fat in the milk during the test was 3.41.

ST. AGNES ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BANQUET.

Held in St. Agnes Dining Hall on Wednesday Evening of This Week.

The tenth annual banquet of the Alumni Association of St. Agnes High School was held in St. Agnes Dining hall on Wednesday evening of last week at nine o'clock. The dining room was beautifully decorated with old rose and gold, the colors of the class of 1910, who were admitted into the association.

At nine o'clock, the hour set, the members of the Association marched into the dining room hall, led by the class of 1900, the other classes following in respective order, where they partook of a delicious banquet served by Miss Hanna McKee. Following is the menu: Bouillion, beef loaf, creamed new potatoes, French peas, mushrooms in timbles, cabbage salad, olives and wafers, coffee, ice cream, strawberries, cake, candied cherries, mints and nuts.

Immediately after the banquet, Arthur Carroll who acted as toastmaster delivered an excellent address. He was followed by Rev. J. J. Coroner, who, in keeping with the spirit of the occasion dwelt upon the future prosperity of the association. Thomas Carroll delivered a masterly address regarding the advancement of the organization. Paul Sullivan, in a very clever manner, discussed the avenues of success which await the trustworthy in this era.

In the name of his class, Maurice Allen thanked those who participated in the uplifting of the society. Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, the valedictorian of the class of 1910, in very choice words thanked the members for the kind hospitality shown them. Miss Rose Connolly brought to mind those members, who were absent and expressed a hope, although they were not there in person, they were there in spirit. John Crimins, in a very thrilling manner, related a few incidents he has experienced since locating in the west. The humor of the evening was a prophecy read by Miss Gertrude Campbell which brought many bursts of applause. The last number on the program was a very brilliant address by Rev. H. J. Ruddy.

After the banquet the members of the Association adjourned to one of the class rooms where the following officers wer elected to serve the ensuing year: President, Thomas Carroll; vice president, Gertrude Head; treasurer, Mary Dalton; secretary, Mrs. H. Swingle.

THREW HOOKS INTO TOWN BOYS ON THEIR OWN FIELD

Laquin Larruped the Locals, But They Had to Go Some.

The Laquin baseball bunch visited Towanda yesterday, and with a whole lot of people looking on, they larruped the locals by the score of 3—2. Imagine the lumber town boys coming to the City of Promise on an old home day, and misusing the town boys in such a manner.

But before it is forgotten, let it be understood, that it was a real baseball game, one of those old fashioned contests in which a winner cannot be picked until the bats have been gathered up and placed in the bag. Laquin won, but it was only after the stiffest kind of an argument in which Towanda was a real contender all the while. The score shows this.

Cotter was on the heaving hill for Towanda, while Max Cranmer, the old reliable did the hurling for Laquin. It was a pitcher's battle pure and simple, with the honors about even.

A fair sized crowd saw the contest and they got their money's worth and then some. Audley Ryan officiated as umpire, and gave splendid satisfaction.

The following players took part in the game: Towanda—Byrne, Cotter, Corbett, Hines, Rockwell, Blowers, Turner, McCracken, Parsons. Laquin —W. Dunfee, Drumm, Russell, Cranmer, Holcombe, Rockwell, Eddy, Gorman.

The score by innings:

Laquin .....0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0—3

Laquin made six hits, Cranmer gathering in three of them, one being a two bagger. Towanda made five hits, Byrne getting two, Cotter two, and Turner one.

The Deadly Cannon Again.

Tuesday evening about nine o'clock, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ward of Endicott, was injured. Lewis was spending the evening with Delbert Aldrich in Vestal. The boys were trying a new toy cannon in the rear of the house. On the third discharge the cannon barrel burst. One of the pieces of iron grazed Lewis' neck and glanced downward and struck into the fleshy part of his right arm just below the shoulder. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich quickly corded the arm above the cut and saved the boy from bleeding to death. The arm bone was badly shattered and the arm was badly torn and mangled. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich brought Lewis to his home in Endicott and Dr. J. H. Doig was called. He took the boy to the Lestershire hospital where Drs. William and Chas. Wilson and Dr. Doig amputated the arm about five inches below the shoulder.—Binghamton Republican.

THE OLD HOME CELEBRATION

company showed the result of the drilling during the past few weeks.

Following the Hawes company in the parade was a carriage containing Charles H. Allen, J. V. Geiger, Hon. W. T. Davies and J. W. Means, the oldest living members of the Towanda Fire Department. They wore the old fashioned helmet, and were vigorously applauded all along the line of march, being compelled to doff their hats to the admiring spectators. Chief Burgess Frost, and members of Town Council in carriages, and the apparatus of the fire department completed the makeup of the parade.

Firemen Reviewed.

The companies were drawn up in front of the court house, where they were inspected by members of Council. Chief Burgess Frost in a few well chosen words introduced Councilman Charles H. Allen, who delivered one of the most eloquent and best addresses ever heard in Towanda on a similar occasion. Mr. Allen called attention to the fact that a large percentage of the membership of the Towanda fire department responded to Lincoln's call to arms in the dark days of the 60's and that they made the best kind of soldiers. He told of the deeds of valor of the firemen-soldiers, and complimented the present members of the department by saying that if they were called tomorrow, they would not hesitate, and that the example of the old members, many of whom now sleep on distant battle fields, will never be forgotten. Mr. Allen was appaluded to the echo, and deservedly so, because his address really was excellent.

Exhibtion Drill.

The exhibition drill by the Franklin Steam Fire Engine company squad was excellent. The company performed some difficult evolutions almost perfectly, and received great applause. The drill was watched by a large crowd.

FANTASTIC PARADE THE VERY BEST EVER

Beautiful typical Northern Pennsylvania June weather, favored the old home celebration Friday, the second day, and a large crowd visited the "City of Promise."

There is no use in saying that it was the "largest crowd ever in Towanda," for there is no way of proving it, and besides there is nothing to be gained. Suffice to say that there was a very large crowd, a big, glad crowd, well dressed, with plenty of money, and all out for a good time. To walk on Main street, especially if you were in a hurry was a good way to find out as to the size of the crowd.

"And there was "something doing" all the while; not a dull moment could be found with a magnifying glass let alone with the naked eye. But then it was always thus in this glad burg.

There were the athletic events, the Soldiers and Sailors Encampment, exercises in the court house, at the Historical Society Rooms, in the Presbyterian church, and in the Opera House.

And mind you, there was music, lots of it, by the Hornbrook band, three or four drum corps—well, what's the use of mentioning the large amount of chin music, all of which helps to make a celebration. After yesterday, you have got to admit that the committees in charge of the celebration are o. k., just right, and then some. Their work could not be improved upon—no, a thousand times no, as the heroine would say in her most eloquent tones.

The Fantastic Parade.

As about everything else is mentioned, accounted for, as it were, in separate articles which are to be found in various parts of the paper, here let a monument of letters be erected to that fantastic and industrial parade, which was really and truly the greatest ever seen in Towanda. Nothing elegant; nothing silky or glossy—just a good pleasing-to-the-eye pageant made up of home people, stay-heres, folk you know.

John Everywhere Graham, mounted on "Duke," Cortez H. Jenning's fine saddle horse kindly loaned for the occasion, marshalled and headed the parade. The Hornbrook band, which by the way plays good music, plays it well, and plays lots of it, vied with High Mucky-Muck Graham for headend honors. Following the band came eight funny fellows on real hosses and they looked too cute for anything, so some of the girls from afar said.

Then came McCraney Brothers with a float bearing a poney and carriage, large cakes of ice, bags of coal, and flying banners. John Hill with a coach and team conveying J. E. Muir and Frank "Brick" Marshall, remnants of the once famous Germania band, came next trailed by Gorman's sprinkling wagon labelled "Towanda Dam," said words being anchored or ballasted with a question mark, commonly called an interrogation point which seemed to ask, "where, oh, where is that d—— dam?"

"Mr. Smooth," supposed to be "Mike" McMahon of the Bradford Hotel, rode on a float and cut up capers with a sad iron and ironing board, just to keep everybody from looking at Shep Bristol and his meat market on the following float. A prettily decorated wagon conveying a large number of little girls carried banners bearing the name of B. Loewns the dry goods merchant. The Arts and Crafts shop had a "swell" outfit trimmed in paturnal flowers and drawn by the Johnston ponies driven by a little girl.

You may not believe it, but right here in the procession the Johnson-Jeffries fight was pulled off, and Frisco and Reno, Nevada, were never mentioned. Two huskies, made up to resemble the scrappers clouted each other occasionally to the amusement of the crowds.

Yanofsky, the junk prince, broke into the game about here, and was followed by a float from the M. Kaufman clothing store. McCabe & Hettich, and the Connell Coal Company had good floats, as did J. W. Swigle, the dry goods man, whose float carried a drum crops, and a live one, too.

James Vincent, the inimitable shoemaker, was "still pegging away," on a float, furnishing new souls to those who need them, many of whom never mention it. One of Con Sullivan's dray horses pulling an old fashioned auto with Mike Mannix for ballast appeared here and attracted attention. The Franklin Steam Fire Engine company had a pretty float with large banners which read 1854-1910. On the float rode the oldest and the youngest members of the company.

Three boys in costume with a jaunting car and donkey were labelled "Bolan, Griffin and Crimmins Touring Ireland." This was a take off on Landlord Bolan, John Griffin, and Dennis Crimmins, and it was not lost, either.

Q. A. Kline's beautiful team hauling the Franklin steamer labeled "The Pride of the City" attracted much attention. Towanda people take much pride in both the steamer and handsome team owned by Mr. Kline. The Towanda base ball team headed by Manager Shelton broke into the game about here, and rode down the line, admired and admiring. Banners advertising Shelton's cigar store covered up the bad spots on the side of the float. There were no wrecks in sight but the Morris Wrecking company was on the job and ready for business according to the signs and signs never fail. N. Sussman, the dry goods and notion merchant had an attractive float following the one of the Morris Wrecking Company.

James E. Meredith, the bottle king had an exceptionally pretty float, it being a nicely decorated wagon carrying a large number of pretty girls.

The Towanda-Canton electric road, W. H. Kane superintendent, was nothing more or less than a handcar on a float with two millionairic appearing men working the soft pedals.

A butcher's wagon, one of those with slats like a steel cage, filled with little boys of assorted shades and labeled "Chester Whites and Berkshires," attracted much attention and created much mirth. Tod Connor with one of the Graham ponies occupied a prominent place in the parade.

There were two floats of colored people, one the cotton pickers, and the other the jubilee jubilants. Doane, the carriage and harness dealer had two floats which completed the parade.

Now, after you have digested the above, and thought it all over, ask yourself and refer to your next door neighbor and see if yesterday' turnout was really the biggest and best fantastic parade ever given in Towanda. Most people say it was.

The Automobile Parade.

The automobile parade took place at 11 o'clock, and proved to be a very attractive event. Miss Mary Welles in a Maxwell car, and with Fred Rockwell in the costume of a Spanish bullfighter led the procession. The line of autos extended from the Christ Church to Birdge street, and embraced many different makes of cars, although the Maxwell cars were the most numerous. Some of the cars were lavishly decorated with freshly plucked flowers which are so much in evidence in this section at present.

The parade interested a large crowd, every bit of space along Main street being occupied by spectators.

Old People's Meeting.

Many of the old people of Bradford county, gathered at the Keystone Opera House on Saturday afternoon and participated in the final meeting of the old home celebration. A large number of veterans of the Civil War who call Bradford county home, together with many old timers who have come from every section of the country assembled in the opera house to celebrate old people's day, which was established on June 24, 1904, by the Bradford County Historical society.

H. S. Putnam, president of the Society, made the address of welcome, and in a sincere and hearty manner welcomed the old soliders and civilians back to Bradford county to help celebrate the old people's day. He introduced Capt. G. W. Kilmer of Towanda, veteran of the Civil War, who in a pleasing manner sang well, the passing years having not impaired his vocal powers to any extent.

C. F. Heverly, librarian of the Historical society, introduced many old people who were present.

A scene was then presented which carried all back to the pioneer days. Those were busy times when nearly everything was made by hand. The mothers and daughters spent the long Winter evenings sitting before the large open fire place knitting, spinning, carding and reeling the wool and flax, with which they made warm gloves, socks and other wearing apparel. These things were all portrayed by the old timers. Others were making splint brooms, while some were hatcheling the wool and flax.

The farmer, as he was at work in the fields or returning to the log cabin where he was met at the door, by the smiling faces of wife, and children; the hunter following the hounds, trailing wild game, over the snow covered hills and mountains, were all reproduced. Then there were the fiddlers and dancers which proved to be one of the most interesting and amusing features of the entertainment.

Everything used in the portrayal has been handed down during the intervening years from generation to generation, the spinning wheels which the women of earlier days used in their domestic work were once again in operation. Bradford county is noted for its pioneer history and these relics of olden times were available to those who were familiar with their various uses and operation.

Another interesting scene was that of Captain G. W. Kilmer and twelve veterans who brought back thoughts and actions of the Civil War. They were put through some of the drills by their captain and none of them seemed to have lost any of their old time vigor and activity. The steps were a little faltering but this was offset by the intense interest and earnestness which they displayed during the drills. They also pictured the methods used in capturing contrabands which was very interesting to those who were not acquainted with the ways of war. The men who assisted Capt. Kilmer were: A. C. Arnold, J. Bosworth, A. L. Tiffany, J. H. Chaffee, Lewellyn Harris, Delanson Fenner, John A. Allen, S. B. Canfield, William A. Dull, L. E. Beers, Robert Hatch and David Latten.

Among others who helped with the entertainment during the afternoon by songs, dances and recitations were: Levi W. Towner, Mrs. Boyle, Mrs. Mary Mahoney, and Stephen O. Allen. The dancing of J. F. Lampman and Mrs. Mahoney was an interesting variation to the program and their efforts won for them a round of applause.

At the conclusion of the entertainment prizes were awarded and presented to the oldest lady and gentleman present. They consisted of a gold headed cane for the gentleman and a silver loving cup for the lady.

The beautiful silver loving cup was awarded to Mrs. Ann Wright of Moores Hill, Ulster township, who will be 97 years old in October. She was born in Wales and came to this country when nine years of age. Her parents settled in Ulster township and have resided there ever since. She was very much pleased with the cup.

Samuel Billings of Towanda, who was 94 years old on the second day of last January, proved to be the oldest gentleman present and was therefore entitled to the gold headed cane which he received. He remembers of hearing his mother tell of hearing the roar of the guns at Monmouth, which shows in a measure that the venerable gentleman's memory is still good in spite of his advanced years. He holds the cane as a valuable prize and is very much pleased with the gift.

The music for the occasion was furnished by Walker's orchestra.

WATTS WON THE THREE FOOT RACES.

State Colege Champion Captures Events.

Blythe D. Watts of Canton, the famous State College runner, won the two mile foot race Friday forenoon in easy fashion. His time was 11 minutes 3 and 3-5 seconds. Charles Crandall of Towanda, was second, his time being 12 minutes, 8 1-5 seconds. Watts receives a gold medal, and Crandall a silver medal. Watts also won the mile and half mile events.

There were 13 entries for this race but only five started. O. A. Goodwin of East Towanda, dropped out after the first mile, and Albert Heath of Wysox, and Adelbert Powell of Towanda, dropped out after covering a mile and a half. Crandall stuck to the task, although several hundred feet behind. He made a spurt at the finish and was loudly applauded.

Adelbert Powell, a colored lad, made a great spurt at the start, leading the runners for about three hundred yards but he could not keep the pace, and before the first mile had been covered he was hopelessly behind.

There were many State College students in the crowd, and they gave Watts the glad hand when he trotted by far in advance of the other runners.

Watts is one of the fastest distance sprinters in the country.

Mile Race.

Watts took the mile event which was pulled off at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, covering the distance in 5 minutes, 10 1-5 seconds. Arthur Fairchild, the Bucknell University sprinter was second in 5 minutes 16 1-5 seconds.

The other runners in this race were Crandall, Capwell and Holland.

Mile Bicycle Race.

C. Gillette won 1 mile bicycle race in 4:32 and 2-5 Henry Winter was second, Carlton Clark third, John Hill fourth, Paul Marshall fifth, Charles Crandall sixth. This was one of the most exciting races of the day.

Half Mile Foot Race.

There were three starters in the half mile race which was run from Mix avenue to the Opera House. Watts was first in 2:11 1-5 and Fairchild was second in 2:18 2-5.

Crandall did not finish the course.

REUNIONS.

Bullock Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the Bullock family occurred June 8, 1910 at Alparon Park, Troy. A general good time was experienced, the hours passing swiftly while greetings and renewals of family ties were taking place. A bountiful dinner was served at noon. At 2 o'clock a program was given, the following taking part: Clara Parsons, Anna Guthrie, Winnie Case; also remarks from Darius Bullock, Mrs. Gladding, F. W. Bullock, C. E. Gladding, Ellery Beach, Mrs. Martha Bullock, Mrs. Coveny and others. Election of officers for the year resulted as follows: President, Wm. Bullock; secretary, Mrs. Lelia Coveny; executive committee, Bertha Parsons, Ellery Beach, C. E. Bullock, F. W. Bullock, Mrs. Charles Bullock. Three deaths have occurred during the year, and the following were appointed a committee on resolutions: Mrs. L. Gladding, Flora Bullock, C. E. Bullock. Letters were read from many who were unable to be present. It was decided to hold the next reunion at Alparon Park the last Thursday in June, 1911.

The thirteenth annual Reunion of the Clarke family will be held on Wednesday, August 3, at the home of Frank Ayers at Wind Fall, Fannie Ayres, Secretary.

Sale of Horses.

Dr. L. G. Marshall has received 50 head of Nebraska yearling colts of good size which he is offering at private sale on the Scott farm one mile south of Towanda. A short time ago he sold a carload of horses in less than a week, and he expects to better this record during this sale.

Towanda Quoit Club Reorganizing.

John E. Graham is reorganizing the Towanda Quoit club and on the afternoon of July 4th on the fair grounds expects to defeat the champions of Athens, who at present also hold the championship of Bradford county.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE EXCELLENT.

Warm Weather of the Past Week of Great Benefit.

No class of people is rejoicing more over the pleasant weather of the past week and its accompanying good results than the farmers of this and other counties. With the seven days of clear, dry weather, the crops, which had been putting forth a rather laggard movement for several months have taken a new lease of life and blossoming out in a most gratifying manner. Everything growable on the farm has been greatly benefited and from present indications many crops which had been predicted as small will be as large as usual.

Reports from the different farming sections show great improvement to all crops. In most instances the notices sent out were that the growth of grains had been backward but this sentiment has changed and the word is now that everything is doing fine.

The corn crop has been the cause of the greatest apprehension to the farmers. Because of the cool rains and dreary weather of the spring this staple was set back many weeks and in some cases the seed decayed in the ground, necessitating a re-planting of entire fields. On account of this it was feared that the harvest would be small and as a consequent result, the price high. All of these fears have now been allayed by the manner in which the growth has improved during the past few days.

The appearance of the oats growth has been the one source of consolation to the countryman this spring. At the start, growth gave evidence of having suffered in the same way as most other grains, but as the season advanced this staple took a lead of its own and maintained the same up to date. As a result an excellent oats crop is looked for all over the country.

The wheat is doing much better as a result of the change in weather, and in certain sections the heads are quite large and are already beginning to color. For the most part, however, throughout the county the stalks are still green and the grain will not be ready for cutting until some time after the Fourth of July.

Owing to the character of the weather of last fall the clover crop as a general rule will be poor, but to offset this failure indications point to an excellent timothy harvest.

In all probability apples and peaches will be quite plentiful and potatoes are expected to be very good. All fruit trees contained a bountiful lot of blossoms and unless they are attacked by some foreign agency before the time of ripening, this section will not suffer from small fruit supplies.

SCIENCE IN FARMING.

Magnificient Work Being Done at State College.

The farmers of Pennsylvania are showing their faith in agricultural education by sending several hundreds of their sons to the School of Agriculture in The Pennsylvania State College. The growth of this school in this state institution has been remarkable. The criticism made of some state agricultural schools that a way to train boys wholly away from the farm will not apply to Pennsylvania. One hundred and seventy of the four hundred and seventy-nine students enrolled in the School of Agriculture last year took courses that fit only for rural life while a considerable percentage of the remaining number, who are taking the four years' college courses, expect to engage in some department of practical farming.

The Two Years' Course in Agriculture attracts young men who have not been able to prepare for a four years course, and it fits men for practical work only and not for professional life. A booklet has been prepared for free distribution that describes the work offered in this course, and it presents some fine illustrations that are descriptive of the work in the School of Agriculture. Students are shown engaged in livestock judging, horticultural work and other practicum. An excellent picture of the students engaged in military drill is shown on the last cover page. This attractive booklet may be secured without charge by sending a postal card request addressed to School of Agriculture and Experiment Station, State College, Centre county, Pa. Every young man who wants to know the science of agriculture and its useful application, and who has not had the advantage of school preparation for a four years course, should take advantage of the Two Years' Course in The Pennsylvania State College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keeler of Dixon Ill., are spending a number of days with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Vail, Olive street, the latter being Mr. Keeler's only sister. They recently returned from New York and Coney Island, being in Gotham at the home-coming reception to Col. Roosevelt and with Mrs. Vail they attended the old home festivities at Towanda last week. Mr. Keeler was born in the City of Promise over 69 years ago.—Sayre Times Record.

Patriotic Services.

Patriotic services will be held in the M. E. church next Sunday morning and evening. At the morning service Rev. D. D. Campbell, D. D. will deliver a sermon appropriate to Independence Day, and in the evening Hon. A. C. Faning will have charge of the services. The interior of the church will be decorated with national colors. The public is invited to the services.

Sayre Library Opened

There were large crowds at the opening of the Mrs. Mary Packer Cummings library yesterday afternoon and evening and many signed membership cards and took books home with them. The library deserves and will undoubtedly receive a large patronage.—Sayre Times-Record.

nings' Chadwick, and R. E. Kizer's Mattheson went in the ditch, but fortunately the drivers were not injured, nor the cars damaged to any extent.

The course started at the bridge crossing the Lehigh tracks, and extended for an even mile. The cars scored from the wagon bridge, and shot across Main street and up the hill with a roar like thunder. A cloud of dust marked the flight of the cars. The crowds along the course was awed by the speed of the machines and the daring of the drivers, and when the alarm sounded down the hill, "car ditched," people realized to the fullest the risk the drivers were taking. But fortunately there were no serious accidents.

Cars Go in Ditch.

The two cars ditched were driven by professional racing drivers. Cunningham was at the wheel in the Jennings car, while Reynolds handled the Mattheson. George R. Hill in his big Chadwick was the first one to negotiate the course completely and safely, but as he followed the cars ditched there was a mixup in the timing and owing to the difference between the judges, Mr. Hill was given no official time. His time as claimed by three of the judges was from 55 seconds to 1:45 for the complete course, but owing to the differences, no mark was given out. In all fairness to Mr. Hill it must be said that his drive was wonderful, and that the speed at which he traveled over the entire course rounding the dangerous curves was thrilling to say the least, and to him belongs the distinction of being the first driver in the contest to negotiate the entire course safely. The ditched cars were allowed to ascend again and they both covered the course safely, the Matthesen with Reynolds up taking first place, and the Jennings Chadwick with Cunningham at the wheel being but three quarters of a second behind.

The Officials.

The following gentlemen acted as officials for the races: Thomas Kinney, Robert Myer, G. M. Clark, Dr. Marshall, J. E. Graham, and Dr. F. J. Kingsley. The time was taken by means of a telephone from one end of the course to the other. This was erected by the Independent Telephone company, and proved a great accommodation and big help.

Owing to the large crowd which lined the street from one end of the course to the other, it was necessary to stretch ropes, and have a number of officers along the course. The fire police together with regular and special officers under the command of Chief Miller kept good order, and the course free.

The meet was very successful, and the time made was very good, everything being considered. That it was popular with automobilists is proven by the fact that cars came from near and far to see the contests. Mr. Stone of Binhamton with his Franklin drove from Wyalusing, bringing a number of people up with him, and then he turned in and took part in the race.

May Be Annual Event.

Automobilists are in favor of making the automobile hill climbing contests an annual event in Towanda, and if this is done it will be the biggest advertisement that the town ever had.

The "Lid" Off at Keystone Park.

Says the Waverly Free-Press: "For the first time since Burgess Sawtelle "put the lid down" one Sunday last summer, Keystone Park was "wide open" last Sunday. The merry-go-round was going round, the chubbuck swing was swinging, the ocean wave and everything else including the moving pictures, was in full blast. The only difference between Sunday and week days was that the riding devices ran without their usual accompaniment of calliope music, and no soliciting for patronage was allowed, but outside of that everything "went." There was no disorder, however, and the place was a quiet and well conducted all day and evening as a Sunday school picnic."

Has New Position.

Morris W. Livingston has resigned his position as linotype operator with the Towanda Printing Company, and on Monday morning he begins work for the DuBois Press company at Rochester, N. Y. He goes with his family to Hornell, N. Y., this morning to spend Sunday, and will commence work in his new place Monday morning. Mr. Livingston is an expert operator, and a splendid workman in any branch of the printing business. There is no doubt but what he will make good in his new position.

Class on a Trip.

The graduating class of 1910, of the high school at Wellsburg, N. Y., passover the Lehigh on train No. 8 Wednesday morning. Instead of having a commencement exercises the graduates decided to expend the money such exercises would cost in taking a trip to Washington, D. C. The graduates were accompanied by the high school faculty and while the train stopped at the Sayre station the party was met by Miss Elizabeth Loetzer who was formerly a teacher of language in the Wellsville High school.
